Goal Was $95,000
City Community Fund 'Over Top'

The East Liverpool Area Community Fund campaign has "gone over the top," officials of the $95,000 drive announced today.

Despite the addition of four new agencies and an increased budget of $15,000 to provide for them, the arawide campaign has exceeded the goal for the second consecutive year.

The achievement of the goal means that 10 district agencies will share in the funds contributed or pledged by 2,000 local firms and residents.

Officials said collections totaled this week hit the $95,000 mark, and more money is expected.

The $95,000 represented the largest goal ever sought in the history of the campaign because of the addition of the new agencies — the East Liverpool Red Cross, the North Hancock County Red Cross, the Child Health Clinic and the Chester-Newell Girl Scouts.

The original agencies are the Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, YMCA, Salvation Army, Recreation Council and United Service Organization.

Frank C. Dawson and Donald U. Honicky, co-chairmen of the drive, expressed the belief the success of the campaign will attract other agencies to join the effort to organize a complete United Fund in the area in the near future.

Both men cited the "generous response" from donors and volunteer workers in the campaign, which began in October, and commended the apparent growth of civic spirit.

The division leaders were Sidney C. Porter, industrial; H. Jud English, merchants; Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, advanced gifts; Carl Pelini, professional, and H. James Allison, Chester-Newell area.

The 1962 campaign was headed by Richard Emmerling with Dawson as co-chairman.

William B. Cooper is president of the Community Fund Association and Carl Werner is secretary. Robert Boyce is immediate past president.

The leaders emphasized the need for all pledges to be fulfilled in order to actually achieve the fund goal.

Goldwater's 'Yes Or No' Due Friday
'Smart Money' Says He'll Announce Bid For White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's Republican Senate colleagues got their bets down today—and the smart money was on a bid for the White House by the Arizona conservative.

Goldwater gives his yes or no Friday at a meeting of Arizona Republican leaders in his native Phoenix.

The setting, his hilltop home overlooking the city, and the audience of state GOP leaders Goldwater chose seemed to hint he might plan to talk about an Arizona race—for re-election to his Senate seat.

But Goldwater spread word of his plans in a telegram Monday to his supporters across the country.

And senators scattered from Washington for the New Year's holiday, they put the odds on a Goldwater plunge into the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Two of Goldwater's top supporters—talking like insiders—said they are confident he will declare himself a candidate.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the only announced contender for top spot on the GOP ticket.

"I knew this was coming," said Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., after Goldwater called the decision session. "I believe that he will seek the nomination."

"I am confident that Sen. Goldwater will make an early announcement," said Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. (Turn to GOLDWATER, Page 9)

When It Returns Congress Faces Tough Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has ended its longest peacetime session with fair warning that when it returns to work in eight days it faces "some of the most difficult decisions which this or any Congress is likely to be required to reach."

Thus Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield let his colleagues know, if they didn't already, that the drawn-out 1963 session of the 88th Congress was "just a beginning."

The battles over civil rights legislation and tax reduction had been only postponed and still lay ahead, although Democratic leaders express confidence both measures will be enacted.

Adjournment Monday came as an anticlimax after the false starts, angry words and pre-dawn session during the holiday rush when the drive to close up shop was blocked by the foreign aid appropriation bill.

The Senate completed action on the battered $3 billion measure Monday including the provision giving the President discretionary authority to approve government guarantees of credit for private commodity sales to the Soviet bloc.

With this out of the way the Senate adjourned at 2:19 p.m. and the House made it official at 2:51 p.m. after a one-minute session.

It then became a time for year-end stock taking, of balancing the debits and credits of the 1963 Congress which has been described by critics as a "do-nothing" session and by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen as a "stop, look and listen" Congress.

Its leaders rank its chief accomplishments—all gained after long struggles—as the ratification of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and enactment of three major education bills.

With the test-ban treaty, Mansfield told his colleagues Monday, "we have kindled a flicker of light which may yet illuminate the way to a reasoned peace, a peace which the world must find if there is to be a civilized world at all."

Although nothing was done in the field of general aid for public grade and high schools — caught up in a controversy over aid for parochial schools—Congress passed:

A $1.2 billion college construction aid bill.

A $1.56 billion omnibus measure increasing funds for vocational education and orienting the program toward modern job opportunities, extending impacted areas aid two years, and boosting student loan funds as part of a one-year extension of the National Defense Education Act.

A $231 million medical education bill containing grant funds to help build new schools and loan money for medical and dental students.

For all the frustrations and pokiness it was also a historic session, experiencing the jolting transition of administrations when John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22 and Lyndon B. Johnson took over the presidency.

Many believe that Johnson, who gained renown as a tough, driving Senate Democratic leader, will have more success getting his programs through Congress than Kennedy would have.

Like Kennedy, Johnson has placed civil rights and a tax

Jacksonville Fire Claims 22nd Victim

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Injuries suffered when flames and smoke swept through the Roosevelt Hotel claimed the life of a 22nd person today. Cause of Sunday's tragic blaze still was undetermined.

The latest victim was Mrs. Josephine Dupre, 35, of Atlanta. Her husband, Walter, 36, died in the fire.

Fire Marshal E. C. McDermott said Monday he would report later his findings on the fire's cause and the damage to the 12-floor, 300-room hotel.

Of the 66 guests and firemen injured in the fire, three remained hospitalized.

Among those discharged was Miss America of 1963, Donna Axum, 21, of El Dorado, Ark.

Fire Chief G. R. Cromartie said smoke spread through the hotel by vertical service shafts which house sewer and water pipes and electrical wires. The shafts are open from the top of the structure to the bottom, he said.

Ex-Diplomat Gets Death Sentence As Spy For U.S.

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP)—Former Bulgarian diplomat Ivan Asen Christov Georgiev was sentenced today to death by a firing squad on charges of spying for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

There is no appeal from the sentence, which was given by Bulgaria's supreme court after a six-day trial. Georgiev pleaded guilty.

Georgiev was found guilty of spying while he was counselor of Bulgaria's U.N. delegation between 1956 and 1961 and later as an official of various government agencies until he was arrested last September.

Georgiev confessed he had earned $200,000 for his espionage. He said he spent the money on "several mistresses in Bulgaria and abroad."

He said as a high-ranking diplomat he had access to important military, economic and political information, among them state secrets, which he sold to the CIA.

He was alleged to have relayed information to U.S. intelligence contacts in various secret apartments in New York, but some addresses listed in the indictment do not exist.

Georgiev's trial was accompanied by a protest demonstration before the U.S. legation in Sofia by 3,000 Bulgarians Friday. The demonstration strained relations between the United States and the Communist regime.

The ostensible reason for the demonstration was Georgiev's alleged espionage. But observers in Washington believed growing popularity of the United States in Bulgaria might have impelled the Sofia government to permit the anti-American demonstration.

Four Children Die In Fire At Youngstown

Five Others Make Leap To Safety

Attempts By Father To Reach Trapped Youngsters In Vain

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Four children in the Joshua Hall family on Youngstown's East Side were killed early today in a fire that destroyed their two-story frame house. Five others, clad in their nightclothes, escaped the flames in bitter cold weather.

Attempts by their 34-year-old father, on the city relief rolls for the past two years, to reach the trapped children were in vain.

"If that fire plug hadn't froze up, we might have gotten the other kids out," said Hall. "I tried, I tried the best I could to save them, but the flames and smoke were too much for me."

Killed were these Hall children—Joshua Jr., 12, Josephine, 7, Brenda, 4, and Devere, 2. Firemen, searching the smoldering rubble several hours later, recovered the bodies.

Hall, his wife, Mary, 30, and their children, Gladys, 14, Fred, 8, and Derrick, four months, leaped to safety from a burning second-floor bedroom. Gladys, who sounded the alarm, held the baby in her arms when she jumped.

The father, unable to find his other children after escaping, tried unsuccessfully to enter the flaming, smoke-filled dwelling. Flames drove him back.

Flames also reached a house next door to the Halls at 3020 Seifert Ave. Firefighters were hampered by temperatures that hovered near zero.

Gladys said she awoke and smelled smoke, then ran into another bedroom and aroused her parents. She said they all jumped together and once outside they were not able to find the other children.

The teenage girl said she thought the fire began on a low-

3,500 Fliers Set To Return From Japan
78 Planes Also To Be Brought Back In Realignment

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Air Force is going to transfer 3,500 men and 78 planes—including its last operational B57 bombardment wing—from Japan to the United States.

This major realignment of U.S. air strength was confirmed today by Lt. Gen. Maurice A. Preston, commander of U.S. forces in Japan, and the U.S. Embassy. Neither would give any details.

An informed source disclosed the United States is negotiating additional Air Force withdrawals but has assured the Japanese it will honor its pledge under the U.S.-Japan security treaty to defend Japan from attack.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the Japanese government agreed to the withdrawals in recognition of the need for "the most efficient use" of military resources to meet the United States' global commitments.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman also declined to elaborate on the realignment.

An informed source in Japan gave these details:

The initial withdrawals are expected to be completed by next fall. Some 2,000 U.S. dependents also will be returned home, and about 2,400 Japanese

$51 Billion Seen As '64 Defense Fund
Johnson In Budget Session With Joint Chiefs, McNamara

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has decided to spend about $51 billion on defense next year.

The big question today was how acceptable is this to the nation's military commanders who had wanted a $60 billion?

Johnson had a budget session Monday with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric.

McNamara had a chance to talk about it afterward. The top commanders of the armed forces didn't, although the White House had billed them for a news conference.

McNamara told reporters all the loose ends aren't pulled together yet, but that the new defense budget will be about $51 billion—a billion less than the spending estimate for the present fiscal year ending June 30.

"This $1 billion savings," he said, "can be made without in any way reducing the defenses of this nation. As a matter of fact, I believe that the budget that will be submitted to the Congress will yield defenses superior to those in any other time in our history in peacetime."

The Joint Chiefs of Staff will have an opportunity to speak later before congressional appropriations committees.

Johnson had said the Joint Chiefs would have a chance at Monday's meeting to appeal requests.

Board Seeks To Curb Driving
Oak Glen Pupils Denied School Parking Facilities

A policy spelling out a firm stand against Oak Glen High School pupils driving to school in their cars was adopted by the Hancock County Board of Education Monday night.

It bans cars of all students from parking on school property, during normal classroom hours, and takes effect when the new plant opens Thursday morning.

"We are furnishing transportation; therefore it is not necessary for students to drive to school," Supt. Robert H. Hall declared. "If they drive, they cannot park their cars on school property," he added.

Nearly all of Oak Glen's 685 pupils will ride to classes aboard a fleet of 40 school buses assigned to the consolidated school in Pughtown. Only two or three live close enough to walk.

Hall said the objective of the firm stand against students driving to school in personal cars is to relieve the Board of Education and its employees from the job of providing adequate parking space, and the responsibilities attached to it.

Autos of salesmen, parents or business and officials will be permitted to park in the public lot. "Of course, parents are permitted to visit our schools at any time, and they can park on school property; they are welcome," Hall said.

George Jamison and Robert Malloy, representing the architectural firm of Kellam & Foley, discussed the progress of construction of Oak Glen and Weir High Schools. Charles McKinney, assistant superintendent, reviewed the new school bus schedules.

John P. Jones, board member from New Cumberland, expressed concern over the safety of pupils while construction continues during school hours.

Robert H. Miller of Weirton presided in the absence of Dr. W. Dale Williams, president. Mrs. Mary Swartz of Weirton also was unable to attend. J. Fred Allison was the third member present.

The next meeting will be Jan. 13.

Robbers Get $66,587 At Washington Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two masked men carrying shotguns held up the Brookland branch of the National Bank of Washington and escaped with $66,587 minutes after the bank opened today.

Bank employees told police both robbers wore rubber masks and rubber gloves. They were reported to have fled the branch in the northeast section of the city in a car driven by an accomplice.

Before fleeing, the gunmen tied a bank employee's hands and feet with a rope, police said.

Firemen Get Lease To Use Rogers Hall

ROGERS — A 10-year lease of the village's community hall to the volunteer fire department was authorized by Council at a special meeting Monday night.

The firemen, who have been using part of the hall to house a fire truck and equipment, sought a 99-year lease.

Under the terms of the lease, firemen will assume responsibility for maintenance of the hall, which has been costing the village some $2,500 annually — $600 for a custodian, the rest for heating, electricity and other upkeep.

The firemen will provide custodial services and pay for the utilities. Council will continue to meet monthly in the hall, and organizations desiring to rent the hall for meetings, dances, auctions or other events may make arrangements with the firemen.

The electric lines for the traffic signals on Route 7 will be made separate from the community hall lines, with the village continuing to pay for the power for the signals.

Signing of the lease is slated at a meeting of Council Monday night. Firemen about four years ago purchased a site near Farr St. for a fire station, but construction plans were never completed.

In other action, Atty. Donald Elliott administered the oath of office to Mayor Robert McCreary and Councilmen William Crawford and Dale Williams, who are beginning new terms. Elliott was reappointed solicitor.

Mayor McCreary named Glenn Baker chairman of the finance committee, which will include Williams and Glenn Rhodes, and appointed Wallace Swaney chairman of the street committee, with Crawford and Robert Whitacre. Rhodes was named Council president, and Albert Starkey was re-appointed street supervisor.

Councilmen Whitacre and Kenneth Ours were absent.

Bills totaling $451 were paid. Council authorized the purchase of street name signs, costing $192, from the Muni-Quip Co. of Pittsburgh. The signs will be erected when delivered, it was announced.

State Highway Patrol Sgt. Ralph Rizzo, new commander at Lisbon, attended the meeting to meet the village officials.

Udall On Oil

He'll Make The Final Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

UDALL-OIL: Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall says he is the Interior Department official who will make final decisions on matters concerning the oil industry.

"The final decisions will be made by me, after consulting with appropriate officials," Udall told a news conference Monday. President Johnson recently granted the Interior Department authority to speak for the administration on all oil matters.

Udall added: "The buck stops right on this desk. It will be my responsibility, and if there is criticism coming, it should come to me—I can take it."

CRIME RATE: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover predicts a sharp rise in crime during 1964 "unless we witness a radical change in the behavior patterns of our more than 180 million population."

Writing in the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover said "an alarming number of persons not only are not doing their part but are overtly aligning themselves with violators against law enforcement officers who are discharging their sworn duties in upholding the law."

ELECTRICAL WORKERS: Secretary - Treasurer Al Hartnett has been voted out of office by members of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

A union statement said the action, which supported President James B. Carey, marked the first time in the history of the American labor movement that a union's membership had voted a high-ranking official out of office.

Carey and Hartnett have been feuding for about two years. They have engaged in physical exchanges and accused each other of financial irregularities.

World Leaders Hope For Peace

Prayer, Whoopie To Be New Year's Celebration

The new year starts at midnight tonight with world leaders expressing hope that it will be a peaceful one.

The celebration will range from the solemnity of prayer to the whoopie-making noises of revelers.

In Italy, they'll throw junk from windows and doors to symbolize removing old and undesired things to make way for the new. It's illegal, but it's also traditional.

In New York's Times Square, a million or more people are expected to brave frigid weather and watch the dropping of a lighted ball down a 70-foot spire of the Allied Chemical building (formerly the Times Tower) at precisely midnight. The annual event will be televised.

Still millions of others will crowd into nightclubs, hotels and private homes the world over for fun and cheer—bottled and otherwise.

The main concourse of New York's Grand Central terminal—normally the scene of hurrying train commuters—has been converted into a balloon-filled ballroom for a New Year's Eve charity dance.

Japan's Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Soviet Premier

Khrushchev exchanged New Year's greetings.

"I hope people of the world will make further efforts in 1964 toward realization of world peace and security of mankind," Ikeda said.

Khrushchev expressed a desire for closer ties between the two nations and for peace in the Far East.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard told President Johnson in a telegram he hoped the new year "will bring us closer to our mutual goals."

Premier Enar Gerhardsen of Norway, in a New Year's radio address to his people, said President Johnson "wants lessening of tensions and disarmament under international control."

The premier, a Socialist, added: "He also wants a peaceful world where the resources are used rationally to the benefit of the whole human race."

In the United States, churches scheduled "watch night" services New Year's Eve to pause for reflection and rededication.

Hoopla and hijinks were on tap elsewhere, and the revelers will pay up to $35 per person in commercial night spots.

Householders Reminded On Water Valves

Citing a rule which has been in effect for 45 years, the Board of Public Utilities today reminded water customers it is their responsibility to have curb stops available.

The board issued the warning after discussing the problem of curb stops at a meeting Saturday.

Donald T. Duke, superintendent, said there has been considerable freezing of lines and meters in homes. In many cases, the department has been unable to turn off the water because the curb stops are not available.

In some instances, the curb boxes are so clogged with debris it is impossible to reach the valve and in a few cases the curb stop has been covered with cement or blacktop by homeowners who have paved their driveways, Duke said.

The department's rule went into effect in 1918 when J. S. Wilson was mayor and E. J. Smith was safety-service director. The late Frank Robinson drew up the list of rules as a young clerk.

The rule provides it is the customer's responsibility to see that a curb stop is available. The stops must be covered in a cast iron box kept one foot inside the curb line and set flush with the sidewalk.

The curb boxes must be kept free of dirt or other obstacles which may interfere with turning water on or off.

The rule also prohibits a plumber from installing a single water line into two or more premises or tenements unless separate curb stops are placed outside such premises on the sidewalk or such other place as the department may direct, Duke explained.

Rug Ignited In Bathroom

An estimated $150 damage was caused by a fire which broke out in a bathroom of a Chester home Monday afternoon, ignited by an electric heater close to a throw rug.

Chester firemen were summoned at 3:08 p. m. to the five-room home of Mrs. Romona Raffa of Montana Ave. when the flames spread in the second floor bathroom.

Mrs. Raffa was on the phone when her daughter, Michele, 4, ran to her, saying the electric heater was afire. Firemen said the throw rug in front of the heater ignited and the flames spread to a clothes hamper which was destroyed.

There was damage to an area of the wall and tile floor in the bathroom, and there was also smoke damage in the two bedrooms in the second story. Mrs. Raffa and her three daughters, including Denise, 2, and Kim, 1, were unhurt. A son, David, was visiting relatives.

Sixteen firemen and two trucks answered the alarm. A booster line was used to quell the flames. The loss is covered by insurance of Mrs. Raffa and the homeowner, Ira VanFossan of Louisiana Ave., firemen said.

Jerrold Wilson was captain in charge at the blaze. Wilson, 42, of Louisiana Ave. and his son, Mark, 8, were released earlier yesterday from City Hospital, where they were taken Sunday after becoming ill from exhaust fumes from trucks in the fire station.

Salem Area Annexation Is Approved

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday approved Salem's annexation of Perry Township property, east of Salem.

Commissioners discussed the annexation at a meeting Dec. 23, but reserved a decision until yesterday. Salem Council will now authorize legislation annexing the territory.

The property is on both sides of Route 14 Alternate, State St. The northern parcel is one-half mile deep and approximately 1,077 feet wide.

The parcel south of Route 14-A has a frontage of 1,089 feet and extends 1,172 feet south at its deepest point.

Landowners signing the petition were William Cain, Louis Brunner, Mary Brunner, Helen McGaffick and Walter H. McGaffick, who designated Joseph Dolansky of Salem as their agent. The petitioners said they represent a majority of the land owners in the area.

Dolansky is associated with the Zilavay Construction Co., Salem home builders, which has land in the area proposed for annexation.

Atty. Thomas Coe, Salem solicitor, supported Council's plea for commissioners to approve, claiming the city was prepared to extend services to the area, and that annexation would benefit the city and county.

In other business, commissioners authorized the admittance of a patient to the Mollie Stark Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Canton.

Next meeting is Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Group Studies Plans For 'Pocket Parade'

Tentative plans for a "pocket parade" were discussed when the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter met Monday night in the Elks Club ballroom.

The date for the event, to be sponsored by the Lincoln School PTA Association, will be set later.

Glenn Hart, retiring president, presided. Glenn Woods directed singing.

The next meeting will be Monday when Sam Wolfe, new president, will preside.

Gold Murder Inquest Due To Be Closed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County coroner, says he will close the Mervin L. Gold murder inquest today and release the bonds of Alex (Shondor) Birns and his alibi witness, a former school teacher.

Birns, a Cleveland rackets figure, has been under $50,000 bond and Allene Leonards under $10,000 bond since their refusal to answer the coroner's questions at the inquest.

"I am closing the Mervin Gold inquest as of tomorrow (Tuesday)," Dr. Gerber said Monday. "But I may, if I receive further information or evidence, reopen it again at any time in the future."

Gold, a Pepper Pike financial manipulator twice convicted in Federal Court of Financial frauds, was beaten, strangled and shot last July 5. His body was found three days later in the trunk of his car in suburban Solon.

Birns, who was sought for questioning, surrendered to Sheriff James J. McGettrick July 11. He told authorities he was eating dinner with Miss Leonards, a Garfield Heights elementary schoolteacher, and another friend at Kandrac's Steak House in Oakwood Village the night Gold was slain.

Birns was brought into the investigation because Gold's wife told authorities that her husband had told her he was going to meet Birns when he left the house the night he was slain.

Dr. Gerber held a two-day inquest when the investigation bogged down. Miss Leonards refused to answer all 75 questions the coroner asked her and Birns similarly evaded most of the 90 questions put to him.

Common Pleas Court Judge Bernard Friedman was asked to order the pair to answer, but the judge on Sept. 17 upheld their rights to refuse to answer under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution.

The coroner said he was closing the inquest because of "insufficient evidence."

"There has been no new information for the past six months," he said.

City Woman Serves As Civil Rights Aide

Miss Josephine Lomba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lomba of Dixonville, an English and History lay teacher at the Magnificat Catholic High School for Girls at Rocky River, is serving as advisor for the school's chapter in the Cleveland Human Relations Council, a teen-age civil rights movement.

Miss Lomba, a 1956 graduate of East Liverpool High School and a 1960 graduate of Kent University, supervises 20 girls from the school in the branch of the council.

The 200-member teen-age council founded in 1950, includes boys and girls from public and private schools in the Cleveland area.

Husband Bound Over

LISBON — James F. House, 23, of R. D. was bound over to the Grand Jury Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on charges of failing to provide for a pregnant wife. Charges were filed by his wife, Mrs. Sandra House, and he remains in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Soviet-Red China Rift May Widen

Russia-West Tensions Seen Declining In '64

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cold war tensions between Russia and the West should continue to decline in 1964. But the new year is expected to bring a sharpening of the conflict between Russia and Communist China with an unpredictable impact on world affairs.

Officials of the new administration of President Johnson are optimistic about the outlook for East-West efforts to strengthen peace.

If initial probings go well, particularly in disarmament negotiations, a meeting between Johnson and Soviet Premier Khrushchev stands high on the list of international possibilities even though it will be a U.S. presidential election year.

Political observers here think it possible that Johnson, who presently has no summit plans, would find a summit session useful for dramatizing his declared interest in seeking more peaceful East-West relations.

Johnson already has said he would go anywhere anytime he felt a meeting with another world leader would have constructive results.

He might find it desirable, too, to have a session with French President Charles de Gaulle.

At the moment he does not think special effort on his part would accomplish anything.

Domestic problems which seem destined to dominate the President's 1964 schedule include civil rights legislation, a bill to cut federal taxes, a shakeup in the worldwide foreign aid program, and a reorganization of the U.S. role in the Alliance for Progress in Latin America.

Johnson has to find some way to make the latter two programs more appealing to Congress.

In international affairs Johnson has taken on a heritage of difficulties, in spite of — or some officials say because of — the improvement in Washington-Moscow relations.

The Atlantic Alliance is growing weaker over internal differences including France's go-it-alone policies in Europe and the split over U.S.-West German efforts to set up a nuclear missile fleet for operation in European waters.

Yule Period Mail Gains

Although the number of cancellations decreased, the total amount of mail handled at the Post Office in the 17-day Christmas period increased by 3.2 per cent and postal receipts showed a 25.3 per cent increase over Brown's office said today.

In the period from Dec. 7-24, the office handled 2,216,100 pieces of mail of all classes and including both incoming and outgoing compared to 2,143,600 last year, an increase of 72,500.

Cancellations this year totaled 763,000 against 797,800 in the same 17 days in 1962, a difference of 34,800 representing a decrease of 4.4 per cent.

Postal receipts in the 17-day period totaled $36,437.10, up $8,501.50 from the 1962 total of $27,935.60, a gain of 25.3 per cent. The rise probably is accounted for chiefly by increases in various mailing classes, including first class postage, which went into effect during the year, the report said.

The total number of clerical manpower hours used in processing the mail was 2,171 which is equivalent to first handling of 1,021 pieces of mail per hour, Brown's office reported.

Generally, mail is handled from 5 to 7 times before it leaves the office.

Reorganization Set

Railroader For 48 Years Retires

R. F. (Red) McConnell, 1604 Clark Ave., Wellsville, left, receives a letter of best wishes from J. C. Bearinger of Conway, trainmaster, upon his retirement Monday after a 48-year career with the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

McConnell started with the Pennsy as a brakeman in 1915 and was a conductor from 1918 until his retirement. The steam locomotives, since replaced by modern diesel engines, were in vogue for the railroad industry when McConnell began his career.

In the past five years, his primary job was conductor on the pick-up train working between Wellsville and East Liverpool each morning. McConnell recalls he was in three serious train wrecks, at Empire, Salineville and near Wellsville, but escaped unhurt in each.

His hobbies are gardening and sports, and he plans to travel and visit his children during his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell have two daughters, Miss Donna McConnell at home and Mrs. Pauline Sinclair of Largo, Fla., and a son, Regis F. McConnell Jr., basketball coach at Taylor Center High School, Rockwood, Mich.

A native of Pittsburgh, McConnell has resided in Wellsville since 1950. He observed his 65th birthday anniversary Dec. 16.

Jaycee 'Bosses Night' Will Be Held Jan. 8

The annual Bosses' Night banquet of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be Jan. 8 at the Country Club.

As in the past, the highlight of the event will be the presentation of the Civic Service Award to a man over 35 and the Distinguished Service Award to a man under 35.

Jack Woerner, a member of the Jaycee Board of Directors, is the dinner chairman. The dinner, at 6:30, will be preceded by a cocktail hour at 5:30.

The CSA is presented by the Jaycees for distinguished service to the community. The recipient is selected by an anonymous committee. This year, the residents of East Liverpool were given the opportunity to submit names of persons whom they felt were worthy of the honor. Ten names were submitted, with the deadline Saturday. Each name submitted was screened and the nominee's qualifications investigated.

The DSA is presented by life members of the Jaycees. It goes to a young man who has distinguished himself in the field of civic service.

Dr. John A. Fraser received the CSA last year and Ed Adkins the DSA.

Robert Lewis will make the presentation of the CSA and Jack Hales, a life member, the presentation of the DSA.

Robert E. Hagan of Warren, a Trumbull County commissioner, will be guest speaker. Hagan provides a home for foster children. He is known for his humorous talks.

Frank Dawson will serve as toastmaster. Richard Chadwick, Jaycee president, will give the welcome to the "bosses" and the reply will be made by William Ogilvie, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner is held each year to give members of the Junior Chamber an opportunity to fete their employer.

The Rev. D. R. Salisbury of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will give the invocation.

Motorist Fined

NEW CUMBERLAND — Ronald L. Rawson, 21, of New Cumberland was fined $10 and costs Monday by Squire John D. Heron on a charge of failure to have his auto under control. He was cited Saturday night in Pughtown after his car struck a hillside by the Hancock County sheriff's office.

Two Cars Involved In Mishap At Newell

Hancock County sheriff's deputies investigated a minor two-car crash Monday at 3 p. m. at the parking lot of the No. 4 plant at the Homer Laughlin China Co. in Newell.

Deputies said cars belonging to Clarence W. Butler, 28, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Raymond O. Brown, 50, of Maple Hill, Salineville, were involved.

Butler told deputies he was driving east on the lot to reach Harrison St. and could not see Brown's car because the view was obstructed. The crash resulted.

There was $25 damage to Butler's 1960 model Opel and $125 to Brown's 1962 sedan. No charges were filed.

The New York Mets batted 219 as a team last season. It was the low figure in the National League. Houston hit one point higher.

Oppose U.S. 'Policy Of Aggression'

Chou Says Chinese Reds Eye Peaceful Coexistence

PARIS (AP) — Softening Peking's strident tone, Premier Chou En-lai said Monday night Chinese Communists believe in peaceful coexistence with capitalism and don't think another world war is inevitable.

In an interview broadcast by the French government television service, Chou said the United States and not Red China is putting obstacles in the way of peaceful coexistence — by its "hostile political policy in regard to China" and particularly its "occupation" of Formosa.

"The Chinese people," Chou said, "have friendly feelings toward the American people, but we oppose the policy of aggression and of war of the American government."

He repeated Peking's perennial demand for withdrawal of American forces from Formosa and the Formosa Strait.

The interview was taped in Rabat, where Chou today ended a 4-day visit to Morocco. He interrupted his African tour and flew to Albania, Peking's chief ally in the bitter ideological dispute with the Soviet Union. After visiting there, Chou will return to Africa to tour Tunisia, Ghana, Mali, Guinea and possibly other countries in east Africa.

Chou also espoused peaceful coexistence in a joint communique with his Moroccan hosts.

The communique said: "The two parties have pronounced themselves in favor of peaceful coexistence among countries of different social systems and for large international cooperation based on equality and mutual advantage."

In neither the communique nor the interview did Red China's premier explain how the peaceful coexistence Peking favors differs from the peaceful coexistence advocated by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, for which the Chinese have attacked the Soviet leader unceasingly.

Chou declined to answer a question about the Peking-Moscow conflict or to explain why Red China refused to sign the limited nuclear test-ban agreement.

Chou said longtime commercial relations between China and France can be expanded if France will "normalize" relations with Peking — in other words, if France grants diplomatic recognition to the Red Chinese.

The United Way Is Best

Among the good portents for 1964 is the success of the 1963 Community Fund drive, which once again has surpassed its goal.

Fulfillment of the campaign's efforts means not only the 10 agencies will carry out their programs with sufficient finances. The contribution of more than $95,000 was a clearcut mandate favoring the united way as the best way for supporting these organizations and others like them.

The individual donors and the businesses and industries which gave money have expressed their solid backing for these agencies and for the combined, single way of insuring their annual budgets.

It is faster; it involves no house-to-house begging; it eliminates the bother for volunteers in such home solicitations; it is a once-a-year effort; it eliminates the duplication of work, promotion expense and the time-consuming preparation of individual fund drives.

In short, the success of the drive again this year — even with the addition of the four new agencies, boosting the money need — clearly points the way for other community service campaigns to merge with the annual effort.

To the leaders and volunteer workers in the 1963 fund drive, we offer heartfelt congratulations on a splendid job done well.

To those who gave in the spirit of good will, we say thank you.

To the organizations still not a part of the communitywide program, we say, "Get on the bandwagon."

Tell Us, Mr. President

Within a few days, President Johnson will receive a report from a small group of high-level advisers on foreign aid—formally known as the Agency for International Development.

He asked for the report when he had to put on pressure to get a pared-down foreign aid bill through the House of Representatives. His political instinct told him what three preceding presidents learned about foreign aid. There is a limit to American patience with a policy that causes the United States to be cast in the role of Uncle Sugar. U.S. taxpayers don't feel sugary.

President Johnson will use the report on foreign aid in a forthcoming message on the subject. Because he so obviously wants to know what he is talking about, it would help if he cleared up some doubts that have kept his countrymen from knowing what Presidents Kennedy, Eisenhower and Truman were talking about when they spoke of foreign aid.

surpluses — a way to get rid of U.S. commodities, goods and military supplies by paying for them with government funds, then shipping them abroad in the name of foreign aid?

4. Is it a monsterized version of the world-famous U.S. boondoggle — a way to stir up international activity on the pump-priming principle that had been discredited in the United States before World War II belatedly reinvigorated the economy?

5. If it has been as successful in saving other countries from Communism as its enthusiasts claim it has been, when should it be tapered off?

6. And pending answers to these questions, what about the suspicion that the project as a whole has led to fantastically costly didoes by liberals who believe in being liberal with other people's money?

IF PRESIDENT JOHNSON could clear up doubts like these, he would find that other doubts about foreign aid would take care of themselves.

The American people have lost confidence in foreign aid because it has been spooned down their throats with the explanation it's good for them on general principles. They're fed up with general principles. They want to know what's in the formula.

Five Years Of Castro

Premier Fidel Castro will have been in power in Cuba five years on Jan. 1.

His continued presence at the head of a pro-Communist authoritarian regime 90 miles off the coast of Florida is an embarrassing fact. Refugee groups in this country monotonously forecast invasions. But Cuba and Castro remain synonymous.

Part of the reason is the willingness of Soviet Premier Khrushchev to send good money after bad. Early this year Raoul Castro, Fidel's unpopular brother, admitted that nobody in Cuba was starving ("thanks to aid from the Soviet Union").

Khrushchev is reported to have sent Castro a half billion dollars' worth of arms. Soviet Communist bloc aid has been pouring into Cuba at the rate of $2.6 million a day for the past year, about $1 million of this from the Soviet Union alone.

KHRUSHCHEV'S gifts to Castro in the recent past seem like those of an embarrassed but conscientious uncle. There has been no lack of criticism of the Cuban regime in the Soviet bloc.

Miklos Heltvanyi, Hungarian representative to a recent economic conference at Prague, expressed the general disenchantment when he complained: "Cuba, which should have been the example for the Western Hemisphere of how socialism works, has become the prototype of how a rich country can be mismanaged by a few ignorant botheads, who have the audacity to blame us for their laziness."

Castro seems more enchanted with the communism of Chou En-lai than that of Khrushchev. Cuba is one of the few Communist states which has not signed the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Edwin M. Martin, outgoing Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs, put it most aptly when he said: "Castro's heart seems again to have shifted to Peking, leaving his stomach in Moscow."

Less than five years ago Castro told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that "we are not Communists," that Cuba had no intention of abrogating the agreement under which the U.S. maintains a naval base at Guantanamo Bay and that Cuba would not confiscate foreign property.

But then, in those days, Castro was promising free general elections in not more than four years, too. And he was still hoping for U.S. help.

Stealing His Favorite Play!

Some Things That Could Happen

By Victor Riesel

A columnist should have the strength of his prediction as well as his convictions. But as a charter member of the Crystal Gazers Union, I must point out that our constitution says plainly that we are not responsible for the fulfillment of any forecast. On this premise—and in view of the fact that our predictions of last year were 90 per cent confirmed—here is what will happen in 1964:

Very few of them know Sargent Shriver. There is sentiment in some New York and Illinois circles for Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg.

If Bob Kennedy does not have second place, Jim Hoffa and his Teamsters will back the Democratic ticket.

ON THE REPUBLICAN side, Sen. Barry Goldwater will be calling most of the signals. Tom Dewey will support Nelson Rockefeller for the nomination. Influential Leonard Hall, once national chairman, will back Dick Nixon. If there is a real deadlock, Pennsylvania's Gov. Scranton will benefit.

Flashy Jack Ruby will get a very light sentence or none at all. He'll set up new entertainment shops on the East and West Coast. Chief Justice Warren's investigating commission will split inside on its findings which will hit the public in March or April.

Joe Valachi will be on the Senate witness stand within 60 days and will involve nations across the world in a global narcotics network with power in the United States. But the Congress will not pass a new wire tapping bill. Despite the Valachi testimony, too many powerful forces will oppose it.

JIMMY HOFFA still will be the big wheel in the Teamsters'

Brotherhood. His toughest court fight will be his effort to beat back government charges that he tampered with a Nashville federal court jury. But, whatever the verdict, he will remain the union's president because the opposition will not have the votes to oust him. Hoffa now absolutely controls a majority of the Teamsters' General Executive Board.

If, for some reason, Hoffa as a successor, he will be Elmer now head of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

PROSPERITY will sweep the British Isles, enabling the Conservative party to defeat the Labor party by a narrow margin.

There will be a new premier of Cuba.

Violent Communist strikes will rage in Italy. The Togliatti Communist party will attempt to topple the government by industrial action.

The Soviet Union will be governed by a junta in which Chairman Khrushchev's voice will be the weakest.

Chancellor Erhard of Germany will be so weakened, it will be only a matter of time before he is replaced by socialist, Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin.

The Soviet and Chinese Communists will be reconciled.

There will be no major war—only peace with ulcers!

Time For A Change

Selection Of Candidates Questioned

The American system of government is relatively young—not even two centuries old—but it has rarely shown so conspicuously its lack of maturity as it does today.

To realize how little progress has been made in the field of responsible government, all one needs to do is to read about the prospective candidates for the presidency being brought forward to serve, if elected, in the highest office in the land.

Take, for example, the different men being talked about for the Republican presidential nomination. For months, attention centered on two or three possible candidates.

Then, as if these men had suddenly become politically ineligible, the search turned to persons relatively unknown—as if it would be easier to elect someone who hasn't become identified with any particular issues or controversial questions in the national field.

The fact that such newly discovered persons of prominence have not had any experience in a position of leadership or major responsibility in either the executive or the legislative branch of the federal government is regarded as of no importance by their political sponsors.

ALL THAT seems to count is that the prospective candidate performs well on television or appears to be a man of congenial and pleasing personality.

The quest apparently is for someone with no political liabilities. This is not unusual. It has happened before.

Our presidents have not always been the ablest of public servants. Often they have had little background but lots of courage. Once a man is endowed with presidential power, he feels a sense of responsibility to be honest and fair. Mistakes usually come, however, as a result of the special prejudices of anonymous advisers who have no direct responsibility to the people.

How many of the men elected to the highest office in the land have turned out really to be great men? Adulation and eulogy afterwards are often emotional, but in the perspective of time the praise is, in fact, for the sincerity of effort and devotion to duty rather than for actual achievement.

There is, of course, little time in a four-year term in which to do a good job, when the first few years have to be spent in learning the ropes. The record in a second term is often better than in a first term because a president has acquired experience on the job.

It will be asked, what difference does it make since the people elect and re-elect—it's their responsibility.

THROUGHOUT history, however, some citizens have sought to improve the ways of free and representative government. There is no convincing reason, for instance, why candidates for the presidency should not be selected only from those men who have had substantial experience in leadership posts in either the executive or legislative branch of the government. The Constitution can be amended at any time to require this.

Isn't sufficient that a prospective nominee should have merely been a governor or even a member of Congress or the Cabinet. He should have risen to the top rank through his work in either the executive or legislative branch of the national government. He will not necessarily make a good president because he has been elected to some office in a state or city or because he is impressive on the stump. Making speeches is one thing but executing policies is quite another.

A president must be able to understand the public and to further important programs that are practical and can become effective.

A president who plays politics may, unfortunately, win an election, but he may fail to serve efficiently the country's economic and sociological requirements within the limits set forth by the people under a written constitution.

WHAT AMERICA needs is a system that will insure the selection of a competent president of experience and not just a candidate with personal appeal but without prior training in the national government.

These are days when wrong decisions can mean war or national bankruptcy or other catastrophe to the American people.

As the population increases, the problem of government becomes more complex. Can one man be expected to rule effectively in the presidency? Wouldn't it be better to pick from the most capable men inside government the presidential nominees of their respective parties and to put alongside of them—to be chosen in the same election—a cabinet of ten men also well qualified in national governmental problems?

Wouldn't it be better to organize in this way an elected presidential council? These men then could appoint general managers for the various government departments, so that the Cabinet secretaries themselves could sit at the side of the president in the executive office building available for daily conferences, as is the practice in so many successful business enterprises of the country?

SOME CHANGE is long overdue, and the stories about the process of selecting a Republican presidential candidate emphasize the weakness in the present system.

Often the people vote for an incumbent administration because the alternative hinges on the quality of men brought to the fore under the system that prevails today.

Rumble In Rhumbaland

By Bert Quint

RIO DE JANIERO
This has been another bad year for the United States in Latin America. And the outlook is for still more of the same in 1964.

Since long before Fidel Castro took power on January 1, 1959, this has been a troubled region. The difference now is that Castro has brought home to the people of the United States just how troubled it is by trying to exploit its misery and to implant other governments like his own throughout the area.

Last March, when the late President Kennedy met with the presidents of the Central American Republics in Costa Rica, the United States made a basic decision: to try to keep Castro from exporting his revolution, not with strong direct action, as the Central Americans urged, but by building "a wall of free men" around Cuba.

The wall was to be built by strengthening the economies of the Latin nations through the Alliance for Progress, the idea being that well-fed men will not turn to Communism.

ON THE WHOLE, these efforts were not highly successful in 1963. Economically, the job is just too big to be done soon enough to have much effect on Cuba's current efforts.

Thus, while the United States has kept pumping money into the area, helping the Latin countries individually and through regional organizations, there have been few tangible results—partly because of the enormity of the task and partly because the Latins have not been willing to make the sacrifices necessary to help themselves.

Where the United States really has taken a beating in its efforts to build a wall of free men around Cuba is in the supposedly free countries, themselves.

In 1963, alone four Latin governments were overthrown by the military. One of them that of Carlos Julio Arosemena in Ecuador, was no friend of the United States and he had gotten into the presidency through a military coup, himself. But the other three deposed presidents—Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes of Guatemala, Juan Bosch of the Dominican Republic and Ramon Villeda Morales of Honduras—all had American support.

In short, there is little hope that things will be looking up for the United States or for the cause of democracy in Latin America in 1964.

Lisbon Salary Raises Given 2nd Reading

LISBON — Council Monday night gave unanimous second reading to an ordinance granting pay raises amounting to $3,240 more per year to police and street department workers and Clerk - Treasurer Ray Hempstead if passed on third reading, it will become effective March 1.

In other business Council made Vine and Exchange Sts. one-way between E. Lincoln Way and Washington St., with parking allowed on both sides on a trial basis January through March.

Council canceled the semi-annual inspections by the American - LaFrance Co. of Elmira, N. Y., on the fire pumper, claiming they are not satisfactory for the amount charged, which averages about $150 per year.

It also discussed police and fire phone service after Chief Leon Zahndt asked that it be changed back to the County Jail. Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan has agreed to have his office answer the calls. Both phones are now in the Shell Service Station and are answered by gas station employees.

Mayor Dean Stockman referred the request to the police committee and authorized it to check on costs and report at the next meeting.

Bond for Hempstead for the coming year was renewed with the Rauch Agency for $148. A bid by E. S. Ward, insurance agent, to provide a similar bond for $137.70 was not given much consideration as it must be provided by Wednesday. A blanket bond on equipment, due for renewal April 1, was not considered last night.

Council authorized transfer of $50 from the general fund to the Sadies VanFossan Swimming Pool Fund to balance the books.

A letter was read from the Koonz Equipment Corp. of Pittsburgh acknowledging Council's authorization for the company to make a comprehensive parking meter survey and report at a special meeting.

Bills of $1,187 were ordered paid.

Solicitor Joseph Baronzi swore in Mayor Stockman, Hempstead and Mrs. Blanche Neill and Robert Kelm, Council members, who begin new terms tomorrow. They were re-elected in November. Next meeting is Jan. 13 at 7:30 p. m.

Gen. Stilwell Wounded By Reds In Viet

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist ground fire slightly wounded Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and both American pilots of an armed helicopter over the Mekong Delta Monday.

A U.S. spokesman said Stilwell, 51, was hit in the neck by flying plexiglass when the bubble of the helicopter was shattered by guerrilla bullets a few miles south of Saigon.

The pilots received similar wounds. All three were treated and returned to duty.

Stilwell commands all U.S. Army support units in Viet Nam. He is the son of the late Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell of World War II fame.

Stilwell's helicopter was one of several searching for guerrillas.

The helicopter received its six hits while flying just a few yards above the ground.

Stilwell has been in Viet Nam about 14 months. In World War II he served four tours of duty in the China-Burma-India theater with his father. He also served in Korea. He had gone through all this unscathed until Monday.

Police Chief Warns On Drinking, Driving

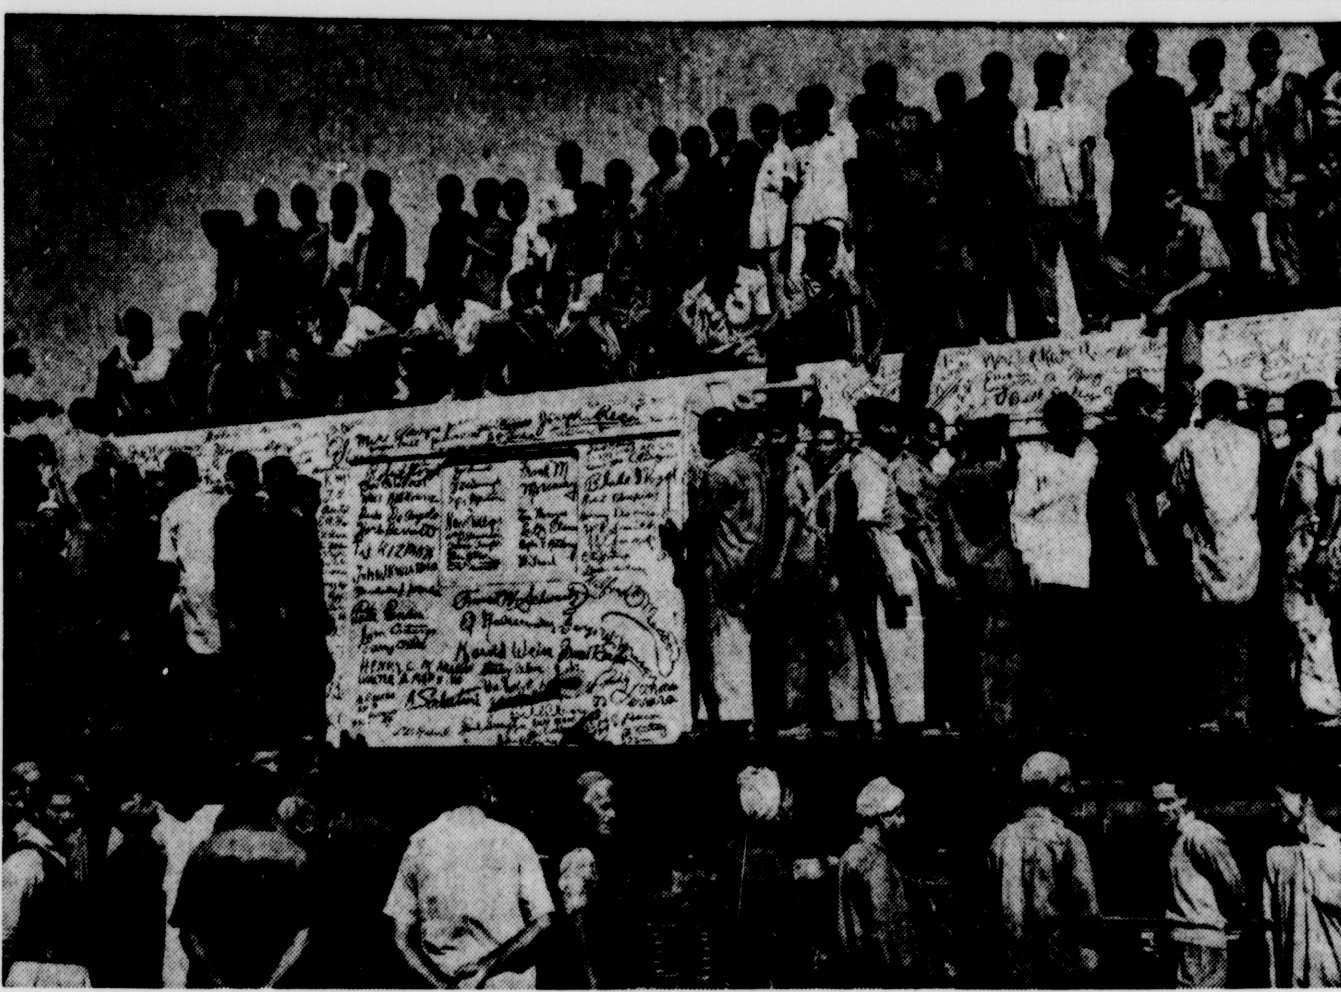

If you're welcome for the New Year becomes a little too "spirited", better use public transportation, Police Chief Americo Radeschi warned celebrants today.

The chief issued his constant reminder to motorists not to mix alcohol and gasoline.

A taxi fare will be cheaper in the long run than facing a court appearance for drunken driving and possible damages resulting from an accident, the chief pointed out.

Chief Radeschi said he was advised by the Yellow Cab Co. that it will have extra drivers on duty tonight. "A telephone call will see the celebrants and their autos both arrive home safely," he added.

Bob Ussery has led the riders at Hialeah three times. He led them the last two years and also in 1959. Bill Hartack and Ted Atkinson are the only jockeys to win the honor four times at the Florida track.

Father Discovers Tragedy

Boy, 14, Found Hanging; Coroner's Ruling Waited

County Coroner William A. Kolozsi of Salem came to East Liverpool today to join an investigation into the death of a 14-year-old youth who was found hanging in the basement of his home late Monday afternoon.

The body of Peter Jeffrey Pusey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pusey, 400 W. 5th St., was discovered about 5:45 p. m. by the father, police reported.

Dr. Roy C. Costello, deputy coroner, said Dr. Kolozsi was asked to join in the investigation of the death.

Shortly before noon, Dr. Kolozsi said he still was studying physical evidence in the investigation of the case. However, he indicated he may issue a ruling sometime late today.

Dr. Kolozsi said that it appears from the preliminary investigation that "no other person was involved."

He indicated he was not ready to answer questions about many aspects of the case. However, he said in response to a question that if the boy left a note, "none has been found."

He said he has talked with some of the youth's playmates, but did not indicate what he learned, if anything.

Police said the father returned home from work about 4:15 p. m. yesterday. He started a search for his son and eventually went to the basement, where he found the boy hanged, officers said.

The boy was suspended by the neck from a school crossing guard's belt, police said. The belt had been attached to a large gas pipe supported by a floor joist.

The initial investigation disclosed no reason why the youth might have taken his own life, Dr. Costello said. He said there was no immediate evidence to support a theory that the boy might have been hanged accidentally while at play with others.

Dr. Costello estimated the boy had been dead three to four hours when he first saw the body. The boy's body was fully clothed. Both the mother and father are employed.

The police report said the department first was advised of the case at 10:30 last night. Patrolman L. E. Richard made an investigation.

A ninth grader at Westgate Junior High, young Pusey was born here Sept. 17, 1949, to William C. Pusey and Helen Vannoy Pusey. He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Elwood T. Pusey of Covina, Calif., and William C. Pusey Jr. at home; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ann Pusey of Garden City, N.Y., and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Vannoy of East Liverpool.

Fire

er level and a coal furnace in the basement may have been the cause.

Those who fled to safety were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for minor injuries and released.

Hall, on the city relief rolls for the last two years, told hospital attendants who treated him for smoke inhalation.

"If that fire plug hadn't froze up, we might have gotten the other kids out. I tried, I tried the best I could to save them, but the flames and smoke were too much for me."

Hall and his wife were in a front bedroom when their teenage daughter ran in and shouted: "The house is on fire, get up, get up." "I looked out in the hall and there was so much smoke and fire that I knew I couldn't reach the other children. I went back into the bedroom, broke a window pane and helped my wife and kids out onto the roof over the front porch."

Hall then ran along the roof to another bedroom, peered in and "I couldn't see or hear a thing." The other family members, clad in their nightclothes, jumped from the 10-foot high roof to the snow-covered ground.

Hall, hopeful some of the other children might have gotten out by themselves, raced to the back of the house when he couldn't find them with the others who had gotten out.

Hall, aided by a neighbor, Walter Jackson, climbed up on top of the back porch in an effort to reach a rear bedroom where other children were.

"It was the same — heavy smoke, flames and no sounds," said Hall. "It was horrible. I felt so helpless."

Police Lodge Chief's Suspension

There were no new developments in the suspension of Police Chief John B. Hephner of Wellsville today but 25 attended a special meeting of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge Monday night at Pete's Cafe to discuss the case. No action was taken, however.

Chief Hephner said today he has contacted legal counsel. He said Monday he plans to fight the suspension.

Hephner was given a five-day suspension, beginning yesterday, by Mayor William Daugherty as a disciplinary action because of "refusal to comply with written orders of the safety-service director."

The controversy comes from a footnote added to a work schedule made out by the chief and submitted to Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare.

The director, in a letter sent earlier, asked for a weekly schedule of the patrolman and asked to be notified in writing of any changes.

The chief complied, but added a footnote which stated the filing of the schedule "constitutes a danger to the safety and welfare of the officers." He said "he does not want the public to know the working schedule of the men so unauthorized personnel cannot take advantage of them."

The chief's suspension is without pay. He is scheduled to return to work next Monday morning at 8.

Beaver Countian Held To Court In Local Entry Case

After a preliminary hearing that continued for nearly two hours, a Beaver County man was bound over to the Grand Jury today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of breaking and entering the Goodyear Service Store on Walnut St. Oct. 10 with intent to steal.

The defendant is Lovell Coleman of Bridgewater, who pleaded not guilty to the charge at arraignment Dec. 24.

The court granted a prosecution motion to dismiss a second charge alleging an attempted burglary Oct. 9 at the Adkins Furniture & Appliance Co. store on Harvey Ave. However, it was indicated the second charge also will be presented to the Grand Jury.

The court set Coleman's bond at $1,000. Represented by Atty. George A. Aronson and Atty. John B. McDonald, Coleman did not offer a defense. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the prosecution.

Judge Raps Vice Raid By State Police

PITTSBURGH — An Allegheny County judge has criticized a State Police vice raid last Oct. 24 in Pittsburgh, calling it a "sorry episode" in the history of the State Police.

"If a citizen was astr in down town Pittsburgh on the night of Oct. 24 and happened to wonder into any of a number of licensed establishments around 11 p.m., he was in real jeopardy," Judge Frederic G. Weir said.

His remarks came Monday in an opinion which dismissed a habeas corpus petition filed by a Pittsburgh woman who was arrested in connection with the raid.

Judge Weir dismissed the petition of Mrs. Annetta Lee because he said she already was free under bond. She had been charged with prostitution and assignment, accepting bawd money and pandering.

Judge Weir said the State Police respect for constitutional rights during the raid was "about what could have been expected in Hitler's Berlin."

The raid, Judge Weir said, provided "headline publicity" at a time geared to "influence the local election of Nov. 5." He noted that a key issue in the campaign was a charge of loose law enforcement.

Every Paper Of Kennedy's Political Life Was Saved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every paper—even the doodles—from John F. Kennedy's political life as senator and President has been saved, his secretary for a decade said today. "I never threw anything away," Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln said in an interview. When she gets through sorting the papers, they're going to the planned $6-million John F. Kennedy Memorial Library to be built at Harvard University. Later, the building will be turned over to the U.S. government as public property, to be administered by the National Archives.

D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Traditionally, presidential papers are considered the personal property of each individual president. Thus some presidential papers have been scattered, lost or destroyed. In the Kennedy library, too, are going gifts and mementoes of his three years in the White House — including his rocking chair. Mrs. Lincoln had no idea how many items will go into the Kennedy library — "hundreds, thousands," she said. "It's a labor of love," she said.

Dodging Sled, Motorist Hits Auto At Curb

A 59-year-old driver slammed on his brakes early Monday night to avoid a child on a sled, causing his car to skid on slippery pavement and hit an auto parked at the curb, police reported.

The 1955 station wagon driven south on Perry Ave. by John R. Kemp, 1052 Riverview St., hit a parked 1960 four-door sedan owned by Eugene F. Gerwick, 1129 Avondale St.

Kemp told police he was driving a child on a sled across a driveway into the path of his car. He said he slammed on his brakes, causing his car to slide on ice and snow and his Gerwick's car. The sled-rider was unidentified.

The crash damaged the right front fender of Kemp's car and the left rear fender, door and bumper of Gerwick's auto.

Slippery pavement also was blamed for a collision at St. George St. and Puritan Alley at 5:31 p. m. yesterday that damaged an auto and a truck, police reported.

The crash involved a 1963 model auto operated by Clyde Downard, 60, of 614 Wedgewood St., and a 1961 model truck of the Commonwealth System, Inc., of Steubenville, driven by George Goppert, 33, of S. Shady Ln. Dr. Fisher Park.

Downard told police he was emerging from a driveway at the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. plant onto St. George St. when he saw the truck approaching. He said he applied his brakes, but could not stop in time because of slippery pavement.

Goppert said he was pulling onto St. George St. from an alley when he saw the auto, but could not stop in time because of the slippery pavement.

Answering Defendant

Wilkinson Denies Errors In City Man's Tax Papers

Answering charges made Monday in Municipal Court in connection with a hearing for a Gardendale man accused of violating the city income tax ordinance, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today an investigation showed there were no errors in the records of his office in connection with the case.

The charges arose when Leonard Miller of Gaddess St. appeared before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff — one of three haled into court on charges of failure to file final returns on 1962 earnings or list estimates on 1963 income.

After considerable discussion of the case, the judge continued the hearing until Jan. 6 to allow the defendant and Wilkinson to confer on the "apparent mistake."

Wilkinson advised the court yesterday Miller filed a final return and paid $6.80, promising to file an estimate on Aug. 1 on his 1963 earnings. He never returned and did not appear in answer to letters sent him on Nov. 19 and Nov. 27, the tax commissioner said.

Miller took the stand, showing the court a copy of the estimate which he said he had filed. He claimed he had paid $20. Examining the return, the judge noted that Miller had both the original and the carbon copy. He said the form was prepared by "a girl in the office," but said she wouldn't talk to him.

Wilkinson objected and said Miller had not made any payment. If a payment had been made, it would show on the office records, he said. But Miller insisted he had a receipt for a $20 payment. It was then the court continued the case to allow the defendant and Wilkinson to confer.

Wilkinson asserted today an investigation showed there was no error in connection with Miller's records.

No reductions are planned in Army, Navy or Marine personnel, who comprise 20,200 men. Total U.S. military strength in Japan is 46,000 men. With them are 54,000 dependents and 3,000 American civilian employees.

Planes to be withdrawn are 48 B57s, 14 F100 tactical fighters and 16 C134 troop transports.

This will mean the deactivation of the 5th Air Force's B57 wing, last of the big bombers still operational in the U.S. Air Force. The 5th Air Force, with headquarters at Fuchu Air Base outside of Tokyo, is the bulwark of U.S. air strength in Japan.

The job of the big bombers will be taken over by F105s, high-speed fighter-bombers capable of delivering nuclear weapons. Three squadrons of F105s were recently assigned to Japan, although no nuclear weapons are believed stationed in the country.

cut atop his legislative recommendations.

Not long before Kennedy's death, he worked out a bipartisan compromise on civil rights legislation on which the House is expected to act at the next session. The Rules Committee prevented floor action this year, but Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., a foe of the legislation, has agreed to start hearings on it Jan. 9.

When the bill reaches the Senate, where it faces a filibuster by Southern Democrats, it will furnish the supreme test of Johnson's leadership in an election year in which he is expected to be his party's standard bearer.

Aware of the struggle ahead on the controversy, Mansfield told the Senate before adjournment:

"We face the issue of civil rights which goes to the heart of our conscience as a free people—to the meaning of the United States to all of its citizens and the meaning of this nation in the history of the world."

The House finally passed the $11 billion tax-cut bill Sept. 25 after long committee sessions and behind-the-scenes maneuvers. But the bill isn't out of the Senate Finance Committee.

Men Begin Sentences

For 2 County Charges

LISBON — Chief Deputy Robert Beresford and Office Deputy Vincent Fiber took two prisoners to penal institutions today to serve terms imposed in Common Pleas Court after they allegedly violated terms of probation.

Charles Walters, 50, of East Palestine R. D. 1 will serve 1-20 years at Ohio State Penitentiary for auto theft. He received probation in June 1961, but authorities picked him up recently for the same offense.

Donald G. Manis, 20, of Salem, was sentenced to 1-15 years at the Mansfield Reformatory for burglary. He received probation in February for a burglary at the Witmer Implement Sales near Washingtonville Dec. 21, 1962, and had violated his probation by carrying a concealed weapon.

Both men were sentenced by Judge Joel H. Sharp after they were cited by Chief Probation Officer Richard Rose.

12 Approved For Job Test

The Municipal Civil Service Commission, meeting Monday night at City Hall, cleared 12 of 13 applicants for a test it will conduct Jan. 22 to make up an eligibility list for the post of sanitary policeman in the Health Department.

Rejecting one applicant as over age, the commission cleared these men:

Harry J. Holt, 837 St. George St., Gene J. Smith, 226 W. 7th St., Jack C. Bonner, 102 Haywood St., Lewis D. Bolton, 243 W. 3rd St., Walter A. Neiser, 1573 Globe St., Fred Kontner, 932 Grandview Ave.

The post pays $370 monthly, plus $75 for car expense.

The job has been vacant since John Owen resigned to accept a position in the water department.

Defense Department sources said this wasn't the purpose of the meeting at all. Rather, they said, it was to let them discuss the total defense budget with the President, give their personal appraisals of its various parts, and especially provide an analysis of what the defense establishment would be like after the budget was presented to Congress and passed.

These sources said it was fair to say none of the services got all it wanted in the budget, but that it was fair to say also the Joint Chiefs are satisfied that the program the budget proposes will "adequately and properly defend our nation."

Tower said he, Curtis and Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., "have been in close touch with this."

Goldwater, while still rated the Republican front-runner, has seen his support in public opinion polls dip sharply since the death of President John F. Kennedy.

A Goldwater aide said the meeting Friday would be a brief one, perhaps only a few minutes. When it is over, the aide said, Goldwater will make his announcement to newsmen outside, then answer their questions.

Navy's Star Fullback Injures Leg, May Miss Bowl Tilt

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Navy's crusading Middles have been hit in their four-star backfield just two days before the showdown struggle with top-ranked Texas in the Cotton Bowl, one of four New Year's Day classics bringing together seven of the top eight college football teams in the country.

Pat Donnelly, the jarring fullback in the Navy backfield that includes All-America quarterback Roger Staubach, halfback Johnny Sai and flanker Ed Orr, stretched a hamstring muscle in his left leg during practice Monday.

"He went down like a shot," said Coach Wayne Hardin. "He is going to start the game, but we won't know what he is going to be able to do until the game starts. If he can go, he'll go. If he can't we'll have to get along without him."

The injury was considered a severe blow to Navy's chance of defeating the Longhorns in a game Hardin admits the second-ranked Middles want to win more than any single game this season. That includes the Army game in which Donnelly scored all three touchdowns.

"Texas is even more important than Army," says Hardin. "Texas is the national champion. The polls are over and we can't change that. But if we could be lucky enough to win, I think everyone would concede that this game was for the national championship."

The Navy-Texas battle figures to be the headline attraction of the four-game New Year's Day program, with some 330,000 fans expected to be on hand to view the proceedings and the five All-America who will be on display.

Here's the line-up:

Cotton Bowl at Dallas—Texas, 10-0 and ranked No. 1, vs. Navy, 9-1 and No. 2.

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. — Illinois, 7-1-1 and No. 3 vs. Washington, 6-4 and unranked.

Orange Bowl at Miami—Auburn, 9-1 and No. 5, vs. Nebraska, 9-1 and No. 6.

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans — Mississippi, 7-0-2 and No. 7, vs. Alabama, 8-2 and No. 8.

All four games will be televised nationally. NBC will carry the Sugar Bowl at 1:45 p.m., EST, followed by the Rose Bowl at 4:45 p.m. CBS will telecast the Cotton Bowl at 1:45 p.m. and ABC will show the Orange Bowl at 2 p.m.

As a preliminary to the climactic day of the season, Southern Methodist, 4-6, met Oregon, 7-3, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas, today.

The Texas-Navy game brings together the Middles explosive offense, which revolves around the scrambling, often-annoying maneuvers of Staubach, and the Longhorns' ball-control offense and a strong defense anchored by All-America Scott Appleton.

Navy averaged 31.4 points a game and ranked sixth nationally in total offense, losing only to SMU 32-28. Texas defeated the Mustangs 17-12 in one of five games the Longhorns won by a touchdown or less en route to their sixth bowl game in seven years.

Tommy Ford and Duke Carlisle plus shoeless kicker Tony Crosby are Texas' main weapons in a rushing-oriented offense. The Longhorns gained 2,316 yards on the ground this season and only 730 passing.

Illinois will, like Texas, base its main hopes against Washington in the Rose Bowl on a tough defense led by All-America center Dick Butkus. Mike Taliaferro is the quarterback and sophomore Jim Grabowski the big threat on the ground for the Illini.

The Huskies, meanwhile, likely will be forced to go without their standout fullback Junior Coffey, still limping on an ailing foot. Charlie Browning and Mike Kuklenski figure to take over as the main workhorse in the land-based attack.

Auburn and Nebraska each has an option threat, the Tigers in All-America Jimmy Sidle and the Cornhuskers in Dennis Claridge. The duel may decide the game, but the most important factor could turn out to be the weight advantage held by the Nebraska line, which includes All-America Bob Brown.

Steve Sloan, tapped to direct the Alabama attack in place of suspended Joe Namath, will carry the brunt of the offense for the Tide against Mississippi's talented quarterback duo of Perry Lee Dunn and Jim Weatherly.

Speedster John Roderick, who led SMU to its upset of Navy, is expected to be a problem for Oregon in the Sun Bowl. The Ducks are equally at home on the ground or in the air, with quarterback Bob Berry the chief threat.

Illinois Rates One TD Favorite Over West Coast Rival

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A close battle, probably settled by Illini Jim Plankenhorn's accurate toe, seems destined in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game between third-ranked Illinois and "unwanted" Washington.

Illinois is rated a one-touchdown favorite. Sunny weather is expected.

On the Big Ten side of the fence, at least, the men who should know best—coaching rivals of Illinois' Pete Elliott—see the Illini battling for their life against a Husky squad primed by a master Big Game mentor, Jumbo Jim Owens.

The Huskies bring a dull 6-4 won-loss record into their third Rose Bowl appearance in five years. That's the poorest regular season record ever sported by a Rose Bowl representative. Off-printed suggestion here has been that Southern California was the best Rose Bowl potential by far.

But coaches of both the Big Six—which this season had an Alphonse and Gaston act in its title race—and the Big Ten which stubbed its Rose Bowl toe on Washington in 1960 and 1961, admit Owens is the greatest when it comes to getting his Huskies snarling and snapping for The Big Game.

Owens really sewed up the free-for-all Big Six race on Nov. 2 with a 22-7 upset of Southern California at Seattle. That was Washington's inspirational win

Kentucky Takes Over No. 1 Spot

Loyola Slips To 3rd Place; UCLA Second

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The powerful Kentucky Wildcats, scoring points by the hundred, collected first place votes by the two dozen in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll and took over the lead from Loyola of Chicago today.

The Wildcats, 101-81 victors over Notre Dame in their only game last week, got an assist from Georgetown, D.C. which upset previously unbeaten Loyola in Philadelphia's Quaker City Tournament.

Loyola dropped to third in the rankings behind UCLA. The Bruins, winners of the Los Angeles Classic, are undefeated in nine games.

Kentucky collected 24 first place votes and 354 points in the balloting by a special panel of 37 regional selectors. UCLA, fourth a week ago, drew 10 votes for the No. 1 position and 333 points. Loyola, which did not have a first place vote, picked up 219 points. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Cincinnati moved up one notch to fourth on the strength of victories over Kansas State and Tulsa. The Bearcats garnered 217 points, only two less than Loyola.

Michigan, one of UCLA's three victims last week, fell two places to fifth. The Wolverines are followed by Vanderbilt, Davidson, Oregon State, Duke and Villanova.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Sports-Minded Academy Head Leaves Post Jan. 11

By HERB THOMPSON
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's No. 1 roster in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday will be a 56-year-old Texas admiral whose enthusiasm for sports matches that of any Midshipman at the Naval Academy.

He's Rear Adm. Charles C. Kirkpatrick, a native of San Angelo and superintendent of the academy.

Attending the bowl game which pits No. 2-ranked Navy against No. 1 Texas in a test of national football power will be one of his last official acts as superintendent. He leaves Jan. 11 for promotion to chief of naval personnel with the three-star rank of vice admiral.

In his two years as head of the academy, he has overseen some major advances in its curriculum to better prepare the 4,000 Midshipmen for duty in a rapidly changing Navy. But he also has seen to it that emphasis did not decrease on the athletic fields as it increased in the classrooms.

The game between the league's Western and Eastern Division champions will be their third of the season. San Diego won the previous encounters 17-13 and 7-6.

The Chargers learned while doing it to treat the Patriots with respect, particularly because of their daring defensive play which San Diego Coach Sid Gillman calls "feast or famine football." He admits, however, that his Chargers haven't feasted on it yet.

During the 34-day fall meeting at Aqueduct, Bobby Ussery led the riders with 28 winners.

Wildcats Eye Sugar Crown, Battle Duke

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oregon State, Villanova, LaSalle, and Kansas State are brand new possessors of major tournament titles, but Kentucky's Wildcats have a grip on the biggest brass ring of them all—the No. 1 spot.

Col. Adolph Rupp's drawing Wildcats, just voted the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, made a premature celebration of the position with an 86-64 romp over New Orleans Loyola in the first round of the Sugar Bowl tournament Monday night.

The Wildcats, who won their own invitational tournament, will seek their second tourney title and their 10th straight victory against tough Duke in the New Orleans tourney tonight.

Duke, now 7-2, beat Auburn 82-67 in the other first round game.

At the same time, Oregon State was busily taking the Far West Classic title for the eighth straight time. Villanova was winning the Madison Square Garden Holiday Festival, Kansas State was copping the Big Eight and LaSalle was gaining the Quaker City tourney titles.

Oregon State, 10-1 for the season and ranked eighth in the nation, whipped Brigham Young 68-58 for the Far West title it never has lost. No. 10 Villanova, guided by Wally Jones and powered by Jim Washington, outlasted Minnesota 77-73 in Madison Square Garden.

Kansas State squeaked past defensively tough Oklahoma State 58-55 at Kansas City and LaSalle edged St. Bonaventure 83-80 at Philadelphia.

Host Texas Western gained the only other major title, whipping Denver 53-42 in the final of the Sun Carnival at El Paso, Tex.

In the opening round of the Charlotte, N.C. Holiday, seventh ranked Davidson won its eighth straight, 90-73 over Penn, while Princeton and Bill Bradley outscored Texas 84-71 in the other first round. Princeton and Davidson will play for the title tonight.

In other major, non-tourney games, Louisville beat Ohio University 69-61, Virginia Tech turned back George Washington 83-76, Navy edged Georgia 57-52, Purdue routed Dartmouth 101-53, Xavier of Ohio handled Tulsa 83-71, Bradley outlasted Arizona 67-59, Toledo took Penn State 81-65, Arizona State nipped Stanford 61-60 and Bowling Green beat Wittenberg 67-58.

Royal Not Scared To Put National Standing On Line

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Darrel Royal's eyes flashed when he said it: "We aren't a bit afraid to put it on the line."

He was discussing the question of whether the national championship would be decided when his Texas football team plays Navy in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday.

Royal said his Longhorns already had received the trophies calling them national champions on the basis of 10 straight victories and that he didn't think once-beaten Navy, rated No. 2, could cause a return of the mementoes even if it won the Cotton Bowl game.

But one word led to another, and finally Royal said with some heat that he wouldn't be scared to put his title on the line.

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin and his players look upon the game as for the national championship although they admit that Texas already has been awarded it.

That, however, wouldn't cause the Middles to think anything else than that they had won the title. They would have beaten the champs.

But whether or not Navy thinks it is national champion and Texas doesn't, it has been the conversation piece as the two teams prepared for their meeting when 75,504 fans jam the big saucer to see the greatest attraction the Cotton Bowl has had in its 28 years.

Never before has the No. 1 and No. 2 teams met in this game and it has the fans on edge as much as the coaches and players.

Mississippi Rates Edge Of 7½ Points On 'Bama

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—With two coaches who hate to lose as badly as Johnny Vaught and Paul Bryant, the 30th annual Sugar Bowl football game Wednesday should be a real blood battle.

"I don't even like to lose at bridge," says Vaught, coach of the Mississippi Rebels, who are 7½-point favorites to take Bryant's team, the Alabama Crimson Tide.

Bryant doesn't like the idea of losing any better than Vaught. "I play to win," he said. He proved he meant that when he had the Tide go for a two-point conversion in its 7-6 loss to Georgia Tech in 1962, the only Alabama defeat that year.

Ole Miss arrived in New Orleans today. Alabama arrived Monday from Mobile, where it has been practicing since Dec. 26.

Both coaches expect to fill the

May Answer Giants' Problems

New York Signs 'Bad Boy' Looney Of Oklahoma U.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants have just signed their No. 1 draft pick, Joe Don Looney, the bad boy of Oklahoma football.

Vice President Wellington Mara was prodded. Had the Giants' taken into consideration Looney's attitude, the fact he was dismissed from the Sooners squad and may have a stage-father situation? Mara considered the question, then replied:

"We have considered those shoulders, those legs and those 224 pounds."

And today Looney loomed even larger in Giant plans for 1964, the possible answer to the No. 1 problem facing the three-time Eastern Conference champions who have failed to win the National Football League in five tries in the last six years.

"The way I figure things," said Sherman, "a power back will be the Giants' prime requisite for next season."

He elaborated:

"I believe we're going to be all right up front both ways. The linebacker situation is very good, as I see it. So is the secondary. But we need running backs. A power back."

What about the veterans?

"I'm not dismissing Alex Webster. He may be back. And Joe Morrison did a tremendous job for us at fullback after Webster got hurt. But Joe finished the season weighing about 188 pounds. He must have been the lightest fullback in the NFL. I'd like to establish Morrison as a flanker back."

"Certainly, I'm not dismissing Frank Gifford, either. Giff had a great year, but right now I'm thinking of Morrison as a flanker."

That means there's an opening, and Looney has the credentials. If he has the proper attitude—Sherman says "I hope I don't have to be a psychologist"—Looney could fill the vacancy in a backfield with Y. A. Tittle, Phil King and Morrison.

Looney was one of the nation's top collegians in 1962 when he led the country in punting with a 43.4-yard average, was fifth in rushing with 852 yards gained and paced the Sooners in scoring with 10 touchdowns.

Sherman also was concerned about his wounded, among them Tittle, who suffered torn ligaments in his left knee during the second quarter of the 14-10 loss to Chicago.

Sherman said he probably would have to replace Tittle as the East quarterback in the NFL Pro Bowl at Los Angeles. Charley Johnson of St. Louis is the only other quarterback on the East roster.

Roger's Feats Voted As Most Spectacular

NEW YORK (AP) — There were Larry Rakestraw's 26 completions for a record 405 yards for Georgia in a game against Miami.

There were the seven touchdown tosses by Northern Illinois' George Bork against Whitewater, Wis. State.

There were the three touchdown passes caught by Oregon State end Verne Burke against Southern California.

And there was the game in which Billy Lothridge kicked three field goals, two extra points, threw two touchdowns passes and averaged 40 yards on six punts against Duke.

But the season's most spectacular one game performance on the football field according to an Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, belonged to Jolly Roger Staubach, Navy's brilliant and the AP's All-America quarterback.

The experts were not unanimous on which of Staubach's performances was the most spectacular but they agreed that the scholarly-looking Heisman and Maxwell Trophy winner provided thrills and heroics in virtually all of his performances on the gridiron.

"I nominate the game in which Staubach completed 14 of 16 passes for 237 yards against Michigan, passing for two touchdowns and scoring another," wrote one expert.

"How about Roger's 12 completions in 17 attempts for 208 yards against William and Mary when he also ran 91 yards and scored a touchdown?" offered another.

"Staubach was at his jolliest against Duke, running 12 times for 72 yards, completing 14 passes for 122 and scoring twice," said another.

"For the most spectacular one-game performance," a voter said, "I nominate Staubach in any one of his games."

In all, 15 of the 63 voters selected Staubach's performances as the most spectacular. Eight picked Rakestraw's brilliant effort against Miami Oct. 18. Six thought Bork's multiple touchdown feat was the greatest. Lothridge received four votes for his one-man exploit, as did Sherman Lewis for his spectacular play for Michigan State against Northwestern Oct. 26.

Burke got two votes for his pass-grabbing accomplishments Nov. 16. Fred Mazeruk of Pittsburgh also got two votes for his fine play against Syracuse Nov. 2.

Weather Looms Big? In Orange Bowl Tilt

By GENE PLOWDEN
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Auburn and Nebraska, poised for their Orange Bowl football game Wednesday, watched Miami's changing weather today and agreed it could affect the outcome of the game.

The Miami Weather Bureau forecast clearing and a little colder, with temperatures in the low or middle 60s by the 2 p.m. EST kickoff. But that was based on a low pressure system over the Gulf of Mexico developing a squall line that would end two days of rain.

Rival coaches, Ralph (Shug) Jordan of Auburn and Bob Devaney of Nebraska, claimed rain would be to the other fellow's advantage.

"Rain doesn't help anyone but it would hurt us more because Nebraska is bigger and plays control ball," Jordan said. "We need a solid footing to take good advantage of our plays to the outside."

Devaney, who canceled Monday's practice because of the day-long drizzle, disagreed with Jordan.

"Bad weather would hurt both teams," he said. "Auburn has better kicking, so it might help the Tigers more than us."

Auburn, No. 5 in the nation, will feature speed and mobility built around 205-pound Jimmy Sidle, the country's best running quarterback who gained 1,006 yards in 10 games, averaging 5.4 yards per carry. Sidle also completed 53 of 136 passes for 706 yards and five touchdowns.

Sixth-ranked Nebraska, using a multiple offense, has nine backs who carried the ball 30 or more times and five averaged 4.6 yards or more per try. The Cornhuskers drove 2,624 yards in 561 rushing plays for a 4.9 average.

Komives 'Held' To 28 In Bowling Green Win

By The Associated Press
Howard Komives had a bad night—for him, at least—with 28 points, but Bowling Green still managed to come up with a 67-58 victory over Wittenberg in a non-conference basketball contest that was close most of the way.

Komives, the nation's No. 2 scorer and the Falcons' high point man Monday night, iced the victory near the end of the final period with a three-point play to give Bowling Green a 61-54 advantage.

The Tigers' third loss against four victories was compounded by the possible loss again of shooting ace Al Thrasher. The cage star collapsed on the court in the first half from a recurrence of a knee injury. Monday night was the first time he had seen action since injuring the knee several weeks ago.

In other action, Toledo posted its seventh victory in nine starts by turning back the Penn State Nittany Lions, 81-65. The defeat broke a four - game winning streak for the Lions and left them with a 4-3 record.

It was anybody's game throughout the first half, with the score tied four times and the lead changing hands twice. But the Rockets held a 32-29 halftime advantage and steadily pulled away the rest of the contest.

Ohio University fell to Louisville Cardinals, 69-61, before a Kentucky crowd Monday night after a final rush was stymied by last minute free throws.

John Reuther, who dropped in four quick baskets at the start of the second half to erase the Bobcats' 29-28 intermission lead, topped the winners with 18 points. Ohio University, now 6-2, was paced by Don Hilt, who had 24.

Xavier thwarted repeated efforts by Tulsa to capture the lead and posted an 83-71 non-conference victory. Xavier had a 10-1 lead in the first half, but the Golden Hurricane erased that by halftime. The Cincinnati team moved ahead 48-37 early in the second half, but Tulsa was within six points with eight minutes left to play.

Xavier's scoring was led by Steve Thomas, who had 30 points. High man for Tulsa was Rick Park with 20.

Aussie Track Star Waits On Indoor Meets

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Ron Clarke, newest sensation among the world's distance runners, is looking forward eagerly to the American indoor campaign starting with the Los Angeles Times meet Feb. 8.

"I know it must sound silly," the slender, Melbourne accountant and world record-holder in the 10,000 meters and six miles said. "But I am far more excited over this trip to the United States than I would be going to the Rome Olympics."

"The reason is I love competition for competition's sake—week in and week out. Gold medals and championships don't particularly interest me. I want to win them certainly, but mainly I just like to run."

Clarke the 6-foot, 164-pound frustrated miler, excited the track world Dec. 18 when he ran 10,000 meters in 28 minutes, 15.4 seconds and six miles in 27:17.6, both world records. The metric distance is 376 yards longer than six miles.

The feat was achieved in the obscure Emil Zatopek Trophy Meet at Olympic Park here before a mere handful of spectators whom Clarke kiddingly referred to as "my relatives."

"I was shooting for the six-mile record," he said. "When I crossed the finish line I pulled up knowing I had beaten the record. Then I heard the crowd yelling 'go on and try for the 10,000 meters.'"

"I ran the additional 376 yards in 58 seconds. If I had been going all out I could have done it in 52 and could have lowered the mark even more."

Clarke chopped 26.8 seconds off the six-mile mark set by Sandor Iharos of Hungary and 3.2 seconds off the 10,000 meters record of Russia's Petr Bolitnikov.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm asking you to print this to let my fellow teen-agers know how lucky they are to have just normal good health.

I'm a 16-year-old girl who lived pretty much the same kind of life that most teen-agers live. A year ago I came down with a disease with a name too long to write so I will use its initials—M.G.

This disease paralyzes certain muscles in the face and throat. I could not utter a single word. Swallowing a mouthful of food often caused me to choke, so I became afraid to eat.

That's the way I had to live from September 1962 to May 1963. Then I had a delicate operation and the surgeon removed a gland. The doctors didn't know for sure whether the operation would help or even whether I would live through it.

For a week after the operation I was between life and death—fighting for every breath. I made up my mind I was not going to die. I just refused to give up hope.

Today I am healthy and normal. I thank God every night for the gift of life and health. So please tell teen-agers everywhere that if they have health they have everything.

Little things like an argument with a boy friend, not getting asked to a dance, not getting into a certain college are really unimportant when you consider what some people have to face.—THANKFUL TEEN.

Dear Thankful: The philosophy expressed in your letter is something all of us should think about—adults as well as teen-agers. Thank you for writing.

Restaurant Etiquette

Dear Ann: What is the proper procedure for a person who goes into a lovely restaurant, orders a complete dinner and when he is half through the meal discovers the food is terrible?

Is it proper to ask to see the manager? Do you recommend complaining to the waiter or the waitress? Or is it best to remain quiet, pay the bill and not return to the place again?

This topic has been the basis for a heated argument between two friends and myself and we want you to settle it.—BEANTOWN BIRDIE.

Dear Bird: The reasonable solution is to tell the waiter or waitress precisely what you are dissatisfied with. If the steak is tough, or too well done or too highly seasoned, you undoubtedly will be offered another one. If the soup is burned or cold, you can try that again, too.

To grumble in silence and never return to a place without giving the management a chance to make things right is unfair.

On Dotted Line

Dear Ann: Five months ago a salesman came to the house and told me someone had suggested my name as an excellent prospect for a sales training course. He said I had the makings of an executive and if I took the course I could earn a lot of money.

I signed what I thought was an application but it was really a contract. Within three days I received a letter saying I owed them $350. I wrote, explaining I didn't realize I had signed up for the course and I did not want to take it.

The reply came by special delivery. It said I had to pay the money whether I took the course or not.

Please tell me if there is anything I can do to get out of this.

I would have to borrow the money and I am already in debt. Thank you.—J.S.

Dear J.S.: This sounds like a racket. Contact your Better Business Bureau. And next time don't sign anything unless you know precisely what you are doing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bonds Are Eyed To Fix Airport

CLEVELAND (AP)—Port Director William J. Rogers says City Council will be asked next month to issue $1 million in bonds for improvement of Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

Rogers said Monday that he was under pressure from several air carriers who want to build an air freight terminal. The air lines would spend $1.25 million to build the terminal, Rogers estimated.

Money from the Council bonds would be used for concrete aprons, sewers and utilities at the cargo buildings, Rogers said.

If the bonds are approved by Council, he said, the federal government would match 25 percent of the total, or $250,000. Federal funds would be used to construct taxiways and concrete approaches.

GE Gets $14 Million Jet Engines Contract

CINCINNATI (AP)—The General Electric Co. has received a $14 million follow-on contract from the Defense Department to make jet engines for the Navy's F4B aircraft program.

C. E. Anderson, manufacturing manager for the GE jet engine department at suburban Evendale, said Monday no additional employees would be hired to work on the engines that will be delivered from August 1964 through the following July.

Killed In Collision

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Harry A. Bird, 63, of Cuyahoga Falls was killed instantly Monday when his semi-trailer truck collided with a Baltimore & Ohio diesel locomotive at a crossing 10 miles south of Cambridge on U. S. 21.

Domer Will Appeal Conviction As Slayer

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Robert K. Domer, sentenced to death for the killing of an Akron fruit peddler, will appeal his conviction.

Harry W. Schmuck, one of the attorneys for the former Canton mortgage investment broker, said Monday night a move was under way to appeal to the 5th District Court of Appeals before the deadline.

A three-judge panel which convicted Domer, 43, on Nov. 29 overruled a motion for a new trial Monday and then sentenced Domer to die April 20.

Domer was convicted of killing Howard F. Riddle, 54, whose charred body was found in Domer's burning automobile April 23 along the Wayne-Stark County line west of Massillon.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: We have had so many complaints from readers who have foam rubber pillows which need laundering, that some sweet gentleman who KNOWS (and is with one of the biggest foam manufacturers in America) writes the following for us:

DEAR HELOISE: Foam rubber pillows should never be hung in the sunlight because the ultraviolet rays in sunlight are enemies of foam rubber and cause it to crumble.

Actually foam rubber itself has no odor and this problem is very seldom encountered. However, of course, it can pick up odors from hair oils, babies, etc.

When this happens the best thing to do is to wash the pillow by hand in lukewarm water, with a mild soap. Excess water should be squeezed out. Then let the pillow or other article dry in a cool place. OUT OF DIRECT SUNLIGHT. Foam rubber NEVER should be dried in an automatic dryer.

Some people may not have genuine foam rubber, but instead have pillows of urethane foam, a synthetic plastic substitute. This product sometimes has an unpleasant, chemical-like odor. In any case, sunlight is also damaging to urethane, making it age prematurely and turn a rather ugly yellow.

JOHN D. DOHERTY, JR.

And, Mr. Doherty, we all thank you dearly.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Just a thought to pass along to our other coffee pals who might be interested in enclosing an Heloise dishrag with their Christmas cards. The postage will cost no more as this "Heloise" weighs NOTHING!

I enclosed this poem with each Heloise net dishrag: Enclosed is a dishrag named Heloise.

Take her and love her; she works with ease. T'won't sour nor smell, and boy is it swell.

And when you use her, think of ME . . . She'll never get tattered and torn.

Scrub all pots and pans, whatever you can. Remember me when you use Heloise.

EVELYN RITCHIE.

DEAR GALS: Heloise dishrags can be made for practically nothing and can be tucked in along with any gift. Buy nylon net (72 inches wide) at your dime or department store. Cut it into 18 inch squares. Won't ravel or tear so use plain scissors.

One yard of net will make eight dish cloths. Each gift will cost you less than five cents. And they are wonderful. It's something that one will use every day and remember you by. Net comes in a multitude of colors.

These Heloise dishrags may be stitched along the edges with yarn, crocheted, etc. Real cute when stitched with mercerized colored thread on your sewing machine. But just to cut them up with a pair of scissors . . . suffices.

HELOISE.

P.S.: I'm so glad to find that someone has found a Heloise that weighs "nothing"! All I want is to lose 10 pounds!

DEAR HELOISE: We have some answers to the "tile" question when people write you that black "goo" comes up between the tiles.

The tile which has been laid, was probably placed in the adhesive too quickly after the adhesive was spread. The air dries this material and since the tile covered the adhesive immediately, the adhesive has remained a little moist, because of lack of air. This is fairly common, however and a dehumidifier in the room will help alleviate the condition.

In the interim, the "black cement" can be removed from the tile face with steel wool, moistened with water.

CHESTER MILLER, Supervisor of a tile company.

What About Cocktail Calories?

There is spirited controversy as to whether or not alcohol calories can be directly stored as fat. Nonetheless, the calories consumed in pure conviviality cannot be disregarded, for they can be 100 proof trouble for the waistline.

Alcohol it—Ida Jean Kain self has a definite fuel value of 7 calories per gram, or 196 calories per ounce. Such calories, though not very worthwhile nutrition-wise, must be considered potential weight makers. Here's the explanation: Alcohol calories and food calories behave differently. Alcohol cannot be used for repair work, and it is not capable of being stored in the body as the other food stuffs are. Therefore, alcohol calories per se can pile on no pounds. But that's not the whole story. Alcohol is a sparer of food calories. The food calories, not being needed for fuel, are converted into fat. The net result on the scales is the same.

The number of calories in alcoholic beverages depends on the per cent of alcohol, usually expressed as proof. The higher the alcoholic content, the higher the calories. A 100 proof whisky contains 50 per cent alcohol. A whisky labeled "90 proof" would contain 45 per cent alcohol, and 86 proof, 43 per cent alcohol.

In calorie charts the measure is usually one jigger, which is 1½ ounces. When the calories in various charts differ for alcoholic beverages, and they do vary widely, this is because the alcoholic content differs in the liquor used. It's the proof that counts.

THE CALORIE SCORE: whisky, gin, rum, 1 jigger, 1½ ounces, 100 proof, 145 calories; 90 proof, 130 calories; 86 proof, 125 calories; 80 proof, 115 calories.

Cocktail calories: Manhattan, 2 oz. bourbon or rye (86 proof), 1 oz. Italian vermouth, with 225 calories.

Martini, 2 oz. gin (80 proof) with 1 oz. French vermouth, 195 calories.

Daiquiri, 2 oz. rum (80 proof) with tsp. sugar, powdered and juice of lime, 180 calories.

It is well known that a before dinner cocktail stimulates appetite... and calorie caution is abandoned. However, anyone who claims that alcoholic beverages boost the weight only because of the increase in appetite is mistaken. It's the grand total of calories that counts. When alcohol plus food boosts the total calories beyond your fuel requirements, the result is added pounds. That's the story.

Board Names Expense List 'Delinquents'

The County Election Board Monday certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw the names of 21 candidates who failed to file sworn statements of receipts and expenses after this year's primaries and general election.

Of the 21 names listed in the year-end report, three were candidates who failed to file by June 21 following the May 7 primaries and 18 were aspirants who neglected to comply with the law by Dec. 20, the deadline for candidates at the Nov. 5 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. All were unsuccessful candidates.

Seven of the 18 delinquent candidates at the general election filed reports after the Dec. 20 deadline, O'Hanlon said, but the filings were too late to avoid being listed.

The 21 candidates are automatically barred from seeking public office again for five years, O'Hanlon said.

The list sent to the prosecuting attorney is to comply with the "corrupt practices act," which requires the sworn statements from all candidates and any organization that opposed or supported any candidate or issue.

Meanwhile Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem has filed for renomination for county coroner on the Democratic ticket, O'Hanlon said.

Dr. Kolozsi announced several weeks ago he would seek reelection.

LISBON — Mrs. Nancy Lee Hough of Salem filed suit for $26,000 in Common Pleas Court Monday on behalf of her son, David Lee Hough, claiming personal injuries in a fatal traffic mishap March 22 near Salem. Defendants are Jerry Allen Schaffer, a minor, and Harold C. Whinnery, both of Winona. Mrs. Hough seeks $25,000 for injuries to the youth and $1,000 for expenses. Her husband, Mervin Hough Jr., 30, and Leon B. Knag, 38, of near Salem were killed.

NEW YORK (AP)—As a public service, Dr. Herbert L. Gould offers this prescription for a hangover:

Drink one ounce of cognac in three ounces of champagne.

"Cognac serves as a stimulant. Champagne adds needed tone to the weariness of days and inspires a feeling of gaiety," said Dr. Gould.

He's president of the Physicians' Wine Appreciation Society of New York.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Katy Sue Meredith, 21, from Andalusia, Ala., was chosen the 1964 Maid of Cotton over 19 other candidates at Memphis Monday night.

She is 5-8, 130 pounds, and has brains to match her beauty. Her grade average at Alabama State, where she's a senior majoring in home economics, is 95.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Elaine Stewart, 29, got a divorce Monday — her second wedding anniversary. She testified her husband, Arthur William Carter, 45, was "given to violent rages," had struck her, and several times had tried to choke her.

The suit wasn't contested by Carter, an actor.

Cleveland Concern Given $60,000 Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. of Cleveland has been awarded a $60,000 contract by the Commerce Department for testing of an automatic boiler control on a merchant ship.

The Ohio company will install the system on the William G. Mather, a 12,400-ton Great Lakes Ore carrier.

Vote Oppositely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's two United States senators voted oppositely Monday when the Senate approved, 56-14, money items in the compromise 3 billion foreign aid bill. Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland voted "no," but Stephen M. Young of Shaker Heights voted "yes."

Both Lausche and Young are Democrats.

Student Conference Warned Of 'Myth' On Civil Rights

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Delegates to the 19th Ecumenical Student Conference at Ohio University have been warned against the "myth" of a single solution, such as legislation or education, to the national civil rights problem.

William Strickland, director of the Northern Student Movement, said prejudice means prejudging and racial prejudice wouldn't end if all Negroes suddenly became "super-educated and went around wearing Ivy League suits."

The Negro Harvard graduate appeared on a special civil rights panel Monday with Dr. Robert W. Spike, executive director of the National Council of Churches Emergency Commission on Religion and Race, and Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

They urgently called on American delegates at the international conference to return home and call upon their congressmen for action on civil rights legislation.

Dr. Spike said the events of 1963 mark the start of a "major social revolution" of which the racial struggle is only the beginning. He said he sees a creative new force in society being unleashed by "the disenfranchised, the exploited and the dispossessed."

Plans were announced at the meeting for a "project of reconciliation" in an unnamed Southern city this summer by the National Student Christian Federation and its international counterpart. Stated purpose of the project is to bring an international team of students into a city with partial integration to draw people across racial lines.

Earlier Monday, a Presbyterian minister from Brazil said Christians in his country must reorient the Marxist movement, not block it out.

The Rev. Reuben Alves of Cantinas, Brazil, said years of political, social and economic tyranny, not Marxists, caused the revolution that is stirring his country.

He said that when industrialization showed the masses of people that there was a chance for a better way of life, the "winds of revolution began to blow." The Marxists, he maintained, have served as catalysts, taking action where the church failed and even tacitly helped to suppress masses of the poor.

Cannister Distribution To Open Dimes Drive

Coin cannisters will be distributed to business places next week, marking the opening of the annual March of Dimes drive, Richard G. Brian, county campaign chairman, said today.

Brian said volunteer workers will place the coin containers on the counters of business places throughout the county.

The drive will continue through Jan. 31. Originally set up over 30 years ago to aid polio victims, the campaign now provides funds for research into the causes of arthritis and birth defects.

Farm Prices To Close Year At Lowest Level Since '39

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm product prices will close the year at the lowest level since August 1939 in relation to parity — the price standard set up by federal farm aid programs.

An Agriculture Department report Monday said farm prices had dipped to 76 per cent of parity.

Parity is the measure of the prices farmers receive for their products in comparison for the prices they have to pay for equipment, supplies, services and the like.

Farm prices ended 1962 at 79 per cent of parity. A month ago they were at 77 per cent. For 1963 as a whole they averaged 78 per cent of parity compared with 79 in 1962. The highest level on the parity standard ever reached by farm prices was 123 per cent in October 1946.

A 5 per cent dip in meat animal prices between November and December was the major factor in pulling farm markets to the low parity level.

Prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in production and family living eased off one-third of 1 per cent in December, but for the year as a whole they were nearly 2 per cent higher than in 1962.

Prices of hogs closed the year down nearly 14 per cent from a year earlier. Beef cattle prices were down nearly 16 per cent. Major factors in these declines were increased supplies of slaughter animals.

Other products which closed lower this year than in 1962 included wheat, rice, oats, long-staple cotton, peanuts, potatoes, dry peas, apples, lemons, calves, sheep, lambs, butterfat, chickens, turkeys and eggs.

Products which ended the year higher than a year ago included rye, corn, barley, hay, upland cotton, sorghum grain, cottonseed, soybeans, flaxseed, sweet potatoes, pears, limes, oranges, tangerines, milk, wool and mohair.

West Virginia's Governor Race Gets New Entry

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—House of Delegates Speaker Julius W. Singleton Jr. has become the fourth announced candidate to enter the Democratic race for governor next year.

Singleton said Monday he definitely would file next week for the office held by Democratic Gov. W. W. Barron, who is barred by the State Constitution from seeking re-election.

Other Democrats already on the gubernatorial campaign trail are former State Commerce Commissioner Hulett C. Smith of Beckley, Elkins attorney Bonn Brown, and Harold G. Cutright, an Upshur County businessman-farmer.

In formally announcing his candidacy, Singleton said he would welcome any questions as to his stand on any issue. He added: "I'll have more to say from time to time about issues that I'm certain will come up."

Singleton, 42, is in his second term as House Speaker and his fourth term as a member of the House from Monongalia County.

He is a native of Charleston and a practicing lawyer here.

Ohio Pilot Guides Disabled Plane To Safe Landing

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Faced with a failing engine and a cockpit filled with smoke, a young Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio, pilot guided his small plane past Detroit metropolitan area buildings to a safe landing on Detroit River ice Monday.

Second Lt. George H. Lydane, 23, a White Plains, N.Y., native who is co-pilot on a six-jet B47 bomber at the Ohio base, was flying a single-engine, propeller-driven T34 "Mentor" trainer from Lockbourne's Aero Club.

Trouble developed in the surplus military craft as it reached about 2,000 feet after departing Detroit City Airport, where Lydane had picked up Joseph Kerwin, also 23, of Warren, Mich., a high school friend.

The lieutenant brought the 225-horsepower craft down in a glide that took it between two supports of the International Ambassador Bridge and to a landing on ice near the Canadian side of the river. The plane sank but both men scrambled to shore.

They were taken to Grace Hospital in Windsor for examination. The Coast Guard cutter Bramble pulled the plane from the water.

Grand Jury Proposes Building Of New Jail

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cuyahoga County grand jury has recommended construction of a new county jail.

In a report issued Monday by Mrs. Hamilton W. Wright, the foreman, the jury said the present jail has outmoded facilities, poor ventilation, small unlighted cells and bathing facilities which would make a punishment of cleanliness.

The jury said it believed "a modern jail is long overdue and should be of primary concern to citizens of Cuyahoga County."

Injuries Are Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Richard Coleman, 5, died Monday of injuries received Dec. 27 in suburban Norwood when he was struck by a car while crossing a street against a red light.

OFF THE RECORD

Junior Editors Quiz on NATIONAL DEFENSE

QUESTION: How can the DEW Line protect us?

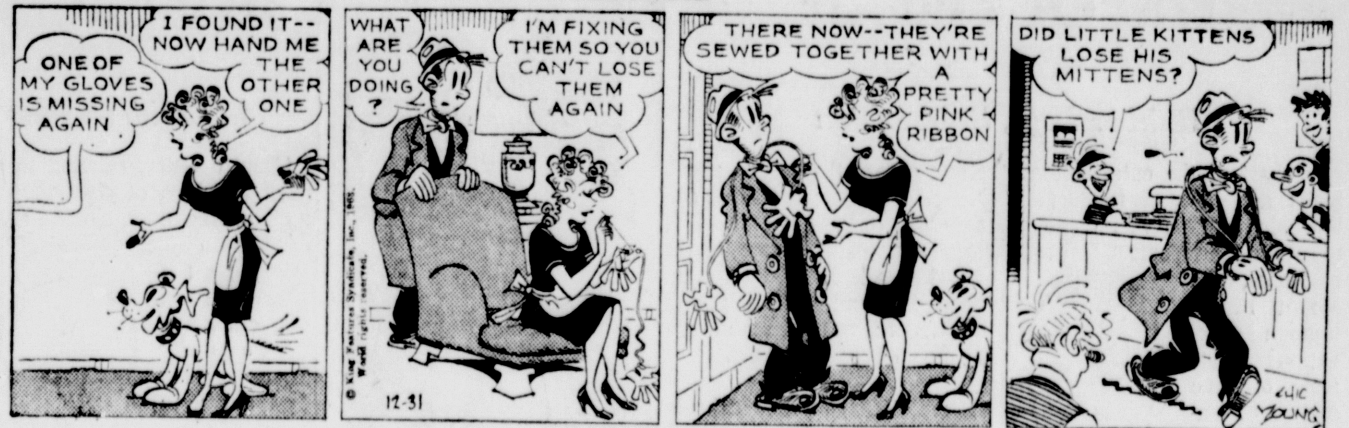

ANSWER: If you shout in certain places the sound will echo back, from the wall of a cliff, for example, and this is the principle back of the modern system called "radar." It sends out radio waves and these bounce back if they strike some object. It is possible to measure the time the impulse takes to go out and return. From this, the distance of the object is known. Objects show up on the screen of a radar indicator as little dots or shapes called "blips." An enemy airplane picked up by radar would show as a blip and one could tell how far away it was.

The word "DEW" means Distant Early Warning. The DEW Line is a chain of 60 or more radar stations which have been constructed across the northern parts of Alaska and Canada, and which would give us instant warning if any hostile aircraft were sent at us over the Arctic from Russia. To make this defense more complete, two other radar systems are in operation, the Mid Canada Line and the Pine Tree Line, the locations of which we show. We also have a string of radar stations around our coast and many ships and blimps, all of which would warn us in case of enemy attack.

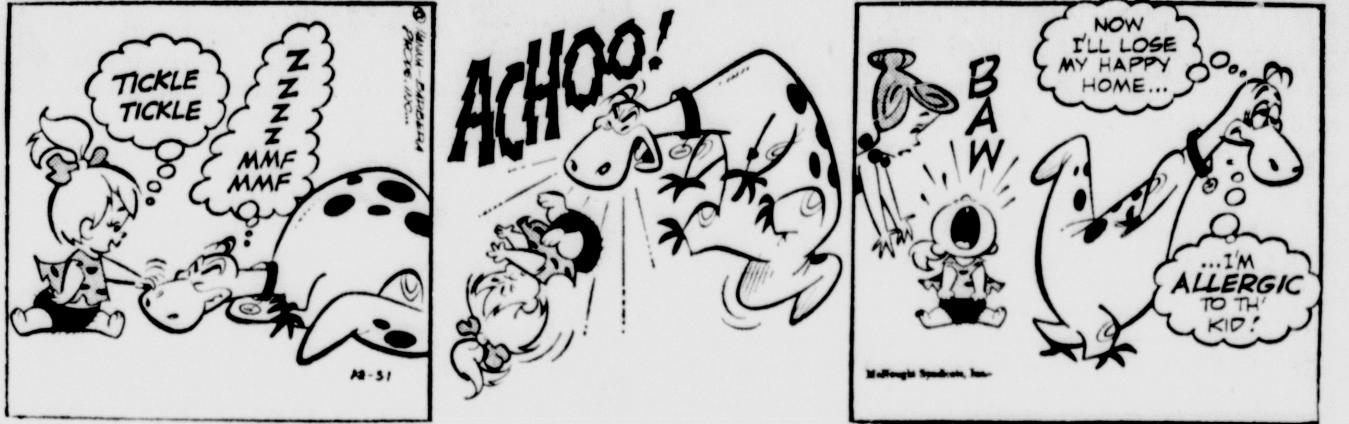

FOR YOU TO DO: Remember how radar works when you see a sign on a road: "speed checked by police." The impulses are generally sent out from a parked police car. If your car is driving too fast, the policeman will radio ahead and your car will be stopped.

Bobby Bevenour of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Out Of The Air

Rubber Legs, Rubber Pan

A chart of the entertainment highs and lows of the 1963-64 television season has come to resemble the topographical map of Nepal. The Mount Kinchinjunga (elevation 28,146 feet) of the current season, I'd say, was conquered on the evening of Dec. 18, when Sir Danny Kaye took on the role of the "oldest and sloppiest" defense attorney in America and attained the summit of comicality. Unlike the late George Leigh-Mallory, he did not scale the thing because it was there, but because a Sherpa guide named Dick Van Dyke was there.

Kaye and Van Dyke set out to show how the presence of TV cameras in a courtroom could reduce our rites of jurisprudence to a shambles of muggery, hammy and camera-hoggery.

Van Dyke was a dashing Don in silk-lined cape and Bond Street haberdashery. He would leap across his table like Douglas Fairbanks, approach the bench like Jacques d'Amboise and, during his examination of a witness, strike the pose of "The Discus Thrower" one minute and Isadora Duncan the next. He was a funny, funny man.

THEN MR. KAYE would arise tottering in his rumpled linens and Carl Sandburg wig and, attempting the Fairbanks spring, sprawl across the table. As d'Amboise, he'd just miss the step below the judge's bench by a disastrous inch. And as Discolobus or Duncan, he was total ineptitude.

He did cut a commanding figure, though, when his floozyish client interrupted one of his orations and he bellowed, "Shut up, you murderess!"

It was along about there—and I clock the time at 10:47 p.m. EST—that Mr. Kaye planted the CBS banner on the summit. The earlier triumphs, however, belonged to Van Dyke. As a best man bolstering the groom's courage with tumbler of whisky just before the wedding ceremony was to begin, Van Dyke was the hilarious essence of rubber-legged tiptiliness.

His inability to place his rump in a chair or to cut a direct path to the door made Leon Errol's old drunk act seem sturdy as a Marine Corps precision drill.

HIS JOINTS, I'm convinced, are held in place only with a thin band of tin and they are unwound with a key (like coffee cans are) before each performance.

His face, sculptured as it is from hot taffy, is an asset, too. And through it all shines a character of benign suavity that's so darned attractive you want to start knitting him a sweater. If there is a claimant at hand to the patchy mantle of our aging clowns, all of whom must be in their 90s now, his name is Dick Van Dyke.

So much for the season's comic triumph.

The comic low, I'm afraid, is not hard to find. It came tum-nelling across the screen about six weeks earlier; it was on the same network, CBS; it featured a potentially fine clown named Carol Burnett; it was called "Calamity Jane"; and the pain of it has been too much for me to face until now.

HAVE YOU put this debacle completely out of your mind? Or do you remember the fumbling embarrassments of funny lines that weren't funny, songs that weren't anything, plot developments that were only am-bushes, and facial contortions that illustrated the total sub-version of a nice girl's abundant talent?

The odd thing was that Miss Burnett's saboteurs included her producer - husband, Joe Hamilton, and her long-time choreographer, Ernie Flatt.

These fellows should know that a funny lady mustn't always be a lady (Beatrice Lillie) and that she should never twist a lovely pan (Tammy Grimes) into something grotesque.

Lady Peel and Miss Grimes are truly funny and truly feminine, without becoming truck drivers (Martha Raye, Nancy Walker). Miss Burnett, unfortunately, is cursed with a rubber face, the way Dick Van Dyke is blessed with rubber legs. But she should be talked out of it.

She's a lady, by Harry, and she must be treated like one.

7:30, KDKA, Death Valley Days: "Somewhere In The Vulturns", with Kathleen Crowley. Stephen Walker mysteriously disappears while investigating a supposedly rich gold mine and his fiancée vainly tries to find him.

7:30, WTAE, WEWS, Combat: "Gideon's Army", Sgt. Saunders wants to defend a group of sick Polish laborers, but the odds are too great against him.

7:30, WJAC, WTRF, WHIC, Mr. Novak: "He Who Can Do", Novelist Rand Hardy, invited by Mr. Novak to address the Jefferson High School Literary Club, flaunts his unorthodox views on education.

9, WJAC, WTRF, WHIC, Richard Boone: "Where's The Million Dollars?" Detectives try to locate a swindler's million-dollar cache before he is released from prison and recovers the money.

10, WTAE, WEWS, King Orange Parade: Direct from Miami, Fla., "The Legend Of The Ballet" is the parade's theme and will be depicted in an unusual array of floats.

11:15, KDKA, WSTV, Guy Lombardo: Comedian Frank Fontaine of the Jackie Gleason Show, singer Dorothy Collins and the Willis Sisters are the guests on the hour-long show.

WEDNESDAY
11:45, KDKA, WSTV, Tournament of Roses: The parade will be seen from Pasadena, Calif., with Arthur Godfrey and Betty White as commentators.

Local Sergeant Plays 'Santa' For Korean Orphans

An East Liverpool resident stationed in Korea helped play Santa Claus for a group of Korean orphans during the Christmas season.

He is Sgt. John A. Seevers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Seevers of LaCroft and husband of the former Mary Jo Wright.

Sgt. Seevers told of the Christmas party in letters to his parents and wife and enclosed a Korean paper which carried a photo of himself and some of the children.

About 800 orphans were guests of the 570th Ordnance Co. during the Yule festivities in Haulum Dong, which is near Seoul. The youngsters, who had been practicing for the party for nearly three months, sang and danced as their part of the program.

After the entertainment, Sgt. Seevers, the non-commissioned officer in charge, went to the orphanage, the Dong Song Babies Home, with Santa Claus and helped distribute gifts to about 90 other children who were too small to come to the party. The 570th Ordnance Co. has supported the home for five years.

Bringing Up A Family

Children Pass Through 'Stages'

Many a letter, relating to almost any kind of problem with a child, whether 2, 8 or 15, often ends with the question, "Is this just a stage he is passing through?" There seems to lurk in such a question the notion that any time a child is hard to guide or manage he Dr. Garry Meyers is just passing through a typical phase of development, and if you just wait he will grow out of it. Indeed, a great deal that parents have heard and read lends weight to this notion.

Obviously it is a "stage" all right, and it's possible he may, in a few instances, be passing through it. But just don't kid yourself that he'll complete the passage, unless by accident or design something happens to clear his passport.

THERE ARE, of course, certain phases in the child's growth and development when he is more prone to some types of undesirable behavior than to others. From about 2 to 5, for example, he may be more negative, more stubborn, than earlier or later.

But this stubbornness may be only slightly prevalent if the parent does not give this child positive commands which presuppose punishment for enforcement. While you might effectively command the child of seven to pick up a block he has thrown, you might beat a youngster, of two, half to death without causing him to obey such a positive command. Yet a quiet calm request might prove very effective.

However the child of two can and should learn to respect some limitations signaled by such words as NO or DON'T.

That boy of 9, 10 or 11, may worry you at the way he escapes soap and water. But after 12 or 13, he may become fastidious about cleanliness and neat grooming. The difference is that he tends now to want the notice and approval of girls.

EARLIER HE not only didn't care about girls but may have tried to show his dislike for them by exaggerating his untidiness. While this lad did pass through a certain stage, he might continue to be slovenly in person all his life, you don't insist that he maintain clean habits.

At 8 or 10, a boy is more inclined to seek status among other boys his age by showing he can defend himself in a quarrel or fight by physical skill or powers. At 16 or 18, he may more often seek status by other means. Yet while in the tooth-and-claw stage he needs to be calmed and directed toward civility.

Assuming there are periods in your child's growth and development when certain types of undesirable behavior may be more pronounced than at others, you will just have to try to be more skillful in his guidance during these periods. But he certainly needs guidance.

Shocknessy Says Tiff With Taft Being Dropped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James W. Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission and "expeditor" of the Interstate 71 freeway, says that he and U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr. have called off their tiff over a proposed interchange between the North-South Expressway and the Turnpike.

Shocknessy, a Democrat, and Taft, Ohio's Republican congressman-at-large found themselves involved in a well-publicized argument last week over a group of motel operators in the Strongsville area who oppose the interchange linking the two superhighways.

Shocknessy said Monday that all is "peace and serenity" between he and Taft, adding that Taft had explained that the motel operators had misunderstood his "courtesy" in arranging a Washington appointment so they could present their case.

Taft is reported to have phoned Shocknessy and called the whole thing a misunderstanding. "We both consider the entire incident closed," Shocknessy added.

Next to green, red is the most predominant color in nature.

After 6 Days As Country Gentleman

Johnson Devotes 6 Hours To Visiting The Big City

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, after spending six days as a country gentleman, devoted six hours to visiting the big city.

Apparently inspired by the sight of so many voters, he began popping his head into beauty parlors, real estate offices and jewelry stores in order to pump hands and flash his ready smile.

The President and First Lady flew 65 miles from their ranch to Austin by helicopter Monday afternoon to attend funeral services for Nellie Miller, widow of Austin's former Mayor Tom Miller.

Since Johnson was already committed to take part in the evening dedication of an Austin synagogue, he decided to use the time in between to make a quick walking tour of the downtown area, conduct some official business from a waiting hotel suite, and invite 30 or 40 friends to a hastily arranged cocktail party.

At the Commodore Perry hotel, Johnson went to the 12th floor to greet 30 or 40 friends summoned on short notice. Nearly two hours later, he set off in a closed car for the new synagogue of congregation Agudas Achim.

A few blocks along the way, Johnson's car stopped without warning. Waiting on the curb stood his wife, Lady Bird. She joined the President.

At the synagogue, Jim Novy, chairman of the building committee, gave an account of Johnson's contributions to the welfare of Jews, dating back to the President's efforts to gain entry for refugees from Hitler Germany.
